University Planning 800-Acre Project near Forrestal on U.S. 1

At a time when many colleges and universities are selling surplus lands to help solve immediate financial problems, Princeton University has been acquiring property on Route 1 for the purpose of generating long-term income and influencing the character of development in the region of its James V. Forrestal Campus.

The University last April acquired an option to purchase 228 acres from the Phipps Land Company. The tract is located on the east side of Route 1 just north of Forrestal.

Also, the University has entered into a joint agreement with the Walker-Gordon Laboratories under which Princeton would have developmental control of 452 acres of Walker-Gordon land adjacent to Forrestal. Any proceeds from the development of this land would be shared by the two parties.

These acquisitions, plus the 927-acre Forrestal tract, which extends over Route 1 to the shore of Lake Carnegie, will give Princeton control of 1,607 acres in Plainsboro Township. The University's long-range plan is to maintain about 300 acres for existing and future University research requirements, hold more than 400 acres as open space, and develop about 800 remaining acres. "Long range," in this case, means 15-25 years.

Development plans were first disclosed last week by Paul B. Firstenberg, Financial Vice President, and John P. Moran, Director of Physical Plant and Properties, at a meeting of the Council of the Princeton University Community. On Monday night, the University made its first public proposal of the plan to the Plainsboro Township Planning Board.

Emphasizing that it is "responding to pressures of development, not triggering growth," the University stated that it desired "to protect the character of the Princeton area." Preliminary development plans call for an office and research complex, hotel, convenience shopping center, and some housing — not low or middle income.

Part of its desire to acquire and develop at this time, the University said, was to prevent the stretch of Route 1 bordering Forrestal from becoming just one more mile of the urban sprawl spreading from New Brunswick to Trenton.

One of the first organizations that will locate at the Forrestal site, the University also announced, is the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, now temporarily located in a building on the Forrestal campus. Although Princeton will seek to lease rather than sell whenever possible, it has agreed to sell 70 acres to the Johnson Foundation, one of the largest private foundations in the world — exactly the kind of blue-chip tenant the University would like to attract.

The University hopes to acquire general planning and zoning approval for its project from the Planning Board. Mr. Moran indicated that current zoning of the Phipps tract already would allow construction of the Johnson Foundation headquarters.

Princeton stressed both its financial and esthetic objectives. "This development will have no adverse impact on the University's operating budget," said Mr. Firstenberg. "Nor will I whet anyone's appetite by saying we will immediately realize large sums of money from it to solve the University's financial problems. However, over the long term we do hope for a significant return."

Construction and siting of any buildings, whether the occupant leases or buys the land, Mr. Moran said, will be allowed only after plans have been approved by a University design committee, consisting of himself, Hideo Sasaki, a nationally prominent landscape architect and planner, and Kenneth Sweet, a real estate advisor.

The firms of Mr. Sasaki and Mr. Sweet have been retained by the University throughout its initial planning of the development. They have provided technical assistance to the University in producing a land-use plan which the University says will be compatible with the property's ecological characteristics.

Five Named to Consolidation Study Committee—Union by '76 Possible

Consolidation as a 1976 bicentennial celebration for Princeton?

Township Mayor Jay Bleiman hopes so. He announced Tuesday the five Township members of the Joint Consolidation Study Committee, having decided not to wait any longer for Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley to name his half of the Committee.

Mayor Cawley said he wants a stronger representation of black Borough residents, and people who live on the "tree" streets (Chestnut, Pine, Linden, etc.) and hopes to have his quota by the end of October.

Here are the Township members, all of whom volunteered to serve.

Helen E. Fairbanks, 70 Valley Road, a member of the Firestone Library staff, and a long-time resident of Princeton who has been deeply involved in municipal affairs.

John Galiardo, 56 Crooked Tree Lane, assistant general counsel for Squibb. Before coming to Princeton to live in 1972, he served on the committee that studied changes in the Scotch Plains, N.J. municipal charter.

Gordon Large, 980 Stuart Road, a vice-president of Smith, Barney, the brokerage house. He is now on leave to serve as director of finance for Brendan Byrne's gubernatorial campaign. He holds a master's in business administration from the Wharton School.

Leonard Etz, 1038 Kingston Road, lawyer, and founder of National Code Consultants, a firm specializing in codifying municipal ordinances.

Stanley C. Smoyer, 86 Olden Lane, lawyer with Johnson and Johnson. He served on Princeton's last consolidation study group, the 1965 Joint Committee on Municipal Operations, known as the Dilley Committee after its executive director.

Mayor Bleiman said that Robert Sellery, 40 Morgan Place, management consultant with Booz, Allen and Hamilton, would also be consulted.

"I hope the chairman is one of the Borough members," Mayor Bleiman said at a press conference. "The Borough is the most important constituency to be convinced on consolidation, and we want Borough citizens to have confidence in the work of this committee."

If the Borough can make its appointments by the end of October, the mayor said, the two governing bodies, plus their newly-elected members might meet with the full committee after election day to begin organization.

Mayor Bleiman emphasized the importance of passage of the Schluter bill to any Borough - Township consolidation. The bill has a safe-harmless provision allowing five years of state financial aid in resolving any tax discrepancies resulting from consolidation. It would also allow Princeton to change its form of government along with consolidating.

If the new committee can finish its work by next summer, examining tax structures, consolidation costs, government reorganization and so on, Princeton voters could decide in November, 1974, whether to approve formation of the formal consolidation commission required by law.

Presumably that formal commission would utilize the work of the new Joint Committee. Then actual consolidation could be on the ballot in November, '75, with a possible united Princeton on January 1, 1976.

FIREARMS LAW SNAGGED

Definitive Standards Lacking. When Township Committee tabled its firearms measure until it could find out exactly what the national standards are for indoor-outdoor rifle ranges, it didn't realize there are no definitive standards. So Police Chief Fred Porter and Township resident Jac Weller, firearms expert and owner of a controversial range, will develop some criteria, Committee said Monday night.

Mayor Jay Bleiman reported a talk with Lentho Burns, Mercer County Game Warden, who told the mayor, "Twenty, maybe 15 years ago, I'd have opposed a firearms ban in Princeton Township. Today, I couldn't oppose one."

The Township hopes Mr. Burns can testify when the municipality's firearms ban ordinance gets to court. Meanwhile, Mayor Bleiman said he'd told the president of the Antlers Club there was no chance of modifying the present Township ordinance banning discharge of firearms.

Committee unanimously passed the second supplementary appropriation ordinance to help buy the $150,000 Houghton-Castoro canal tract for open space. The township has $140,000 in state and Federal money and hoped the Borough would join in paying the balance, now $6,600.

However, the Borough has refused. (Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said he wanted to join the Township, but Council said "no." William Cherry, questioned Committee about the Township's $150,350 assessment, which was the basis for the Township's offer of $150,000 to the owners. The land has some fill, but can't be built on because it's in the flood-plain, and the owners are making a 1,000 - percent profit, Mr. Cherry complained.

"I'd say we're getting land worth $150,000 at a net cost of $6,600," replied Committeeman Sanford Reynolds.

Not very happily, Committee unanimously passed the $30,000 ordinance to patch up and renew the Hillside Avenue sewer. Unhappily, because the sewer line is only eight years old.

"We can't allow this to happen again!" exclaimed Committeeman William Sutphin, urging tighter specifications for pipe and more frequent inspections.

Administrator Joseph R. Nini thought the problem was in back-filling the trench after the sewer was in. Rosemary O'Brien, who heads the Environmental Commission, suggested it might be difficult to lay pipe in the hard diabase rock of the Hillside area.

Streets and Paths. No final action on the name-change for Stuart Road. It was to be West Stuart Road, but residents asked for a change to "Stuart Road West." Mrs. Edwin Hutter, who lives on Van Dyke Road, said East Stuart Road should really be Van Dyke Road. So — action later, after study.

But Research Road — the "J" Road — made it. From now on, it will be Bunn Drive, after the late B. Franklin Bunn who was once mayor of the Township.

The bike path contract was awarded to Castoro and Co., subject to passage of a supplemental ordinance related to joint Borough - Township financing of a Franklin Avenue strip. Bid: $35,793, reduced from the original after negotiations with Mr. Castoro.

Anguished pleas to do something about Harry's Brook and its culverts came from Lester Tibbals Jr., 131 Randall Road, and Burton Peskin, 79 Meadowbrook Drive. Both expressed alarm about damage to their properties — each has been severely damaged in past storms — by construction of Princeton Community Housing and other upstream developments.

Mayor Bleiman assured them that PCH and the nearby Thanet property would have retention basins. Administrator Nini reminded the two that before the 1971 floods, the Township had plans to improve brook drainage in the area, and had been shouted down by some conservationists and neighbors. Mayor Bleiman referred to a forthcoming Harry's Brook flood control survey and said it would provide helpful information.

Committee welcomed the newest probationary patrolman to the force. He is John Clausen Jr., son of the Township's chief mechanic. The new man on the force was one of 63 candidates who took the written exam, 35 who passed the stiff physical, eight who got the personality - inventory. He'll be 21 this Friday.

PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT SITE: Princeton University hopes to turn this 1,607-acre tract in Plainsboro Township into a research park with small portions set aside west of Route 1 for a cluster of housing, a hotel-conference center, and a convenience shopping area. The University this month will buy the 228-acre Phipps tract and then sell 70 acres of it to the Johnson Foundation for its headquarters. Princeton has entered into an agreement with Walker-Gordon to develop its 452 acres, with the two institutions sharing the proceeds. The entire tract of land is slightly larger than the University's property between Nassau Street and Route 1, from Springdale Road to Harrison Street, which includes the main campus.

University Project

Plans for the Forrestal development were just part of an overall review of University land holdings, initiated more than a year ago by President William G. Bowen, and directed by Mr. Firstenberg and Mr. Moran.

In addition to developing the Forrestal area, the University came to one other important conclusion: that the 1,500-acre tract of land from Springdale Road to Harrison Street, from Nassau Street to Route 1, including the main campus, should be preserved for University purposes.

Doubly Adequate. The planners looked as far into Princeton's future as they could, and envisioned a university of twice as many undergraduates, graduate students, and faculty, and three new professional schools — all far out contingencies not part of anyone's near future thinking. They also calculated that such a double-sized college would require 600 acres of open space to maintain the present environmental qualities. The 1,500 acres would be sufficient for such growth, if future Trustees and administrators thought it desirable.

Then the planners turned their attention to Princeton's other holdings, which would not be necessary for future academic expansion and therefore could be considerd for development.

These holdings include a tract off Pretty Brook Road currently used for biology field studies, the Palmer Square - Hulfish lots, and Forrestal. Plans have been made for Forrestal because, of the three sites, it is the one where adjacent lands are most likely to be developed.

Covering Bases. The lengthy and comprehensive planning process, plus the full disclosure of plans at this early time were seen as part of efforts by the University to avoid the prolonged and sometimes disastrous quarrels that have plagued some other real estate development plans.

At a press briefing on the campus before the Plainsboro meeting questions were raised about the uniqueness of the plan, its effect on the University budget, and whether administering the plan would add to the bureaucratic layers in Nassau Hall, New South or elsewhere.

"This piece of land assemblage is pretty novel," said Mr. Firstenberg. "That's why you see so many outside experts here. The University couldn't possibly go into a complicated venture like this without help."

The financial vice president said the development would be financed either through use of the University's investment portfolio, or by outside financing, or some combination. "A ground rule all along has been that it will be financed in such a way that it does not restrict the University's current budget," said Mr. Firstenberg.

Housing Density. The University doubts that another administrative arm would be needed to handle this project, since Mr. Sweet has been retained as the developmental consultant, in effect the University's operations officer, reporting to Mr. Firstenberg, Mr. Moran and a special committee of University Trustees with oversight of the plans.

The Plainsboro planners had few comments or questions for the University and outside experts assembled for the presentation. The planners were to be given detailed accounts of environmental and economic impact studies and the University planned another appearance before it would formally ask the Planning Board for the necessary variances in ordinances.

The University described its housing plan as one with modest impact on the school system — compared to other proposed and existing development in Plainsboro. Princeton would like to build 600 attached, single family units, priced in the $60,000 range, with a density of about 8 per acre.

"We want to cluster them, not spread them all over the landscape," said a representative of the Sasaki firm. "This density is designed to give the housing and shopping center a sense of place."

Mr. Moran emphasized, however, that office and research uses would be the area of initial concentration by the University.

NEW SITE RULES?
Ordinance in Preparation. A stringent new Princeton site plan ordinance is under study and if proponents have their way, it may be passed by the end of this year.

It would make a developer report on water supply, pollution, liquid and solid waste, flooding possibilities and the control of erosion during and after construction, before a go-ahead would be granted.

The new ordinance would also give ex-officio representa on the site-plan committee to health boards and environmental commissions.

"We hope Princeton will have a new site-plan ordinance before the end of this year," said Planning Board chairman Hans K. Sander this week. His board is scheduled for Wednesday discussion of the new measure, particularly criticism of it from Township Committee.

The new law would provide for maintaining and enhancing the aesthetic character of the community. This plan would outline areas to be preserved because they have historic, architectural or scenic value, propose ways to develop unbuilt areas and suggest areas to be retained "as is."

The Township's chief criticism of the new measure, Mr. Sander said, is directed toward this Municipal Design Plan which Township Committee says is "unwelcome and inappropriate."

Princeton needs a new community-wide site plan ordinance, Mr. Sander explains, because as it is now, Borough and Township each handle site plans differently. The Township has a review committee, the Borough assigns plans to the whole planning board for examination.

Last Wednesday, the Township's board of health and environmental commission held their first joint meeting. They talked over the environment parts of the proposal, and raised these questions:

Who would evaluate the builder's environmental assessment? Could Princeton trust a builder to make his own evaluation and tell the truth? Does the ordinance require so much that builders will simply throw up their hands and build elsewhere?

"Requirements like these should have been made on every house built here in the last 100 years," snapped Herman A. Lavan, the Township's health officer, and he added, "Trust the developer? I don't trust anybody!"

Ellen Peterson, head of the Board of Health, suggested the Environmental Commission confer with some builders.

The Environmental Commission has a state grant to finance a "resource survey," a kind of natural inventory of the Township, and Martha Lamar, Planning Board member present at the meeting, suggested that this inventory can be used as a check against a developer's reports.

The ordinance provides that environmental impact reports be required of any developer building ten or more houses, but Environmental Commission members suggested five instead.

PARK STUDIO ON AGENDA
On Borough Zoning Board. In the lone case on its agenda, the Borough Zoning Board Thursday evening in Borough Hall will hear the application of J. Seward Johnson Jr. who wants to build a sculpture studio in Marquand Park.

Mr. Johnson, of 8 Newlin Road, has an option to purchase a 20,000-square foot lot in the park owned by Guernsey Hall, Inc. It is near historic Guernsey Hall, which has been converted to a condominium, and would have access off Mercer Street.

Mr. Johnson's application will be presented by attorney A.C. Reeves Hicks. He needs a use variance to locate the

Got an Old Tire in Your Yard?

"Visual pollution" is the delicate phrase used at the joint health - environmental board meeting last week to describe that old tire in the yard, the toss of wood by the back fence, the rusty bedspring outdoors in fine disregard of clean-up week.

Whose problem? When neighbors complain, they complain to the municipal health officer. But unless the junk has unhealthy potential — rats, and such — is it really a health problem or an environmental problem?

"It's an environmental impact and it's awful" exploded Mr. Lavan. He'd like a nice sturdy nuisance code with a list as long as an old garden hose.

Somebody mentioned a house, long vacant on the corner of Valley Road and Ewing. It's been declared "unfit for human habitation," explained health board president Ellen Peterson, but somebody pointed out that one man's nuisance is another man's beautiful, weathered old falling down barn.

Rosemary O'Brien, who heads the Environmental Commission, said her group would be willing to recommend such an ordinance.

"We sometimes cite people for leaving such debris around," observed Mrs. Peterson, "but we don't give them any place for a dump" studio in an R 1 zone, bulk variances, and a front yard variance because some parking would be located there.

Shaped somewhat like an hour glass, the 90-foot long concrete, glass and wood studio would contain 3,131 square feet on the first floor. A basement would house storage, tool repair and photography areas. There would be no living quarters.

Architect William Short has also designed a glass enclosed balcony.

The project received site plan approval from the Regional Planning Board in September. In October, the same board unanimously approved the proposed studio use with the understanding that sales would be moderate, there would be no major displays, no advertising and that the ultimate use would be to the public benefit.

In an informal notice sent to neighbors, Mr. Hicks reported that Mr. Johnson intents to contribute the studio and lot to the Marquand Park Foundation upon his death or when he no longer plans to use it. He would also contribute funds to provide for the conversion of the studio to a conservatory for the display of flowers and plants. Funds to meet the continuing expenses of the conservatory would also be provided by Mr. Johnson.

The primary concern is to preserve and protect the atmosphere and character of the neighborhood, the notice stated. Under an agreement with the Marquand Park Foundation, when use of the studio by Mr. Johnson ends, there will be no commercial or night use of the structure. In addition, the Mercer Street access would be abandoned.

POLITICS

Township. Princeton's slumbering political campaign woke up a little this week as Democratic Township Committeeman Abbot Low Moffat, who isn't running, slapped Republican ... ads that say things like "shrugging off concern about overspending," as though only Republicans cared about the dollar.

In a sharply-worded letter (see "Mailbox"), Mr. Moffat says Republicans on Committee — and that includes Sanford Reynolds, who's running for re-election — worked with Democrats to draft the budget and then voted for it. No Committee has ever been divided on partisan lines where the budget is concerned, Mr. Moffat says.

If Committee's Republicans thought the budget too loose, he continues, it was their duty to try and get it amended or not to vote for it. Democratic candidates for Committee are Jay Bliman, incumbent mayor, and Ellen Peterson.

Meanwhile, Mr. Reynolds and his running mate, Everett Garretson, comment on the Mercer County Improvement Authority's plan for getting rid of county garbage. They express the hope that the plan can be made to work for the Township, citing $32,000 now paid by the municipality to collect from about 300 homes, compared to MCIA's estimated $55,000 to collect from 3,000 homes.

They ask for "more refined cost estimates" and some way of controlling the quality of service offered by Landfill and Development, the contractor for the county.

Borough. This week, housing occupied the Democrats — Joseph Moore and Martin Lombardo — while the regional sewer design drew Republicans Margaret Penick and Robert Pols.

The Republicans support a three plant treatment system for the Stony Brook regional sewer, as "lower in cost and allowing more flexible planning for the future." The candidates quote figures showing that the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority's proposed one-plant proposal would cost $500 per million gallons of water treated, compared to $123 under the present system.

"As treatment methods change under the impact of new technology," they declared, "we do not want to be locked into an expensive, outmoded system which will have to undergo costly upgrading."

The Republicans also pledge to work for completion of the 92-A bypass.

"Renters and landlords alike have acknowledged this law to be both fair and effective," they declare. "We also passed a tough new inspection law for rental housing to insure safe and health accommodations."

They also say, "We got the Borough to permit overnight parking in municipal lots, a big help to midtown renters without private garages."

SQUARE DANCE PLANNED

To Benefit Scholarship Fund. A community square dance for adults is being organized by the Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation for Saturday, Nov. 3 to assist PHS graduates of the Class of '74 in furthering their education.

Art Seele will serve as caller for the event which will take place in the high school boys' gym from 8 to 11 p.m.

Princeton High School students themselves, under the leadership of Mrs. Betty Hewell, are planning a hoe-down of their own for Saturday, December 7, to help raise student-to-student scholarship grants.

Mrs. Charles C. Adams, Jr. and Mrs. Philip H. Hendrickson, co-chairmen of the Nov. 3 benefit sqquare dance, have named a roster of committee chairmen to assist them, including Mrs. Lee Cleveland, tickets; Mrs. David Eynon, refreshments;; Mrs. Paul W. Davis, decorations; Mrs. Estelle Brown, posters; Mrs. Winthrop S. Pike and Kristen Davis, publicity.

Tax deductible tickets at $5 a couple may be obtained through Mrs. Cleveland (924-5398) or from the following building representatives in each of the schools: Mrs. Carol Parsons, PHS; William Cirullo, John Witherspoon; Mrs. Becky Mackey, Community Park; Mrs. Christa Rounds, Riverside; Mrs. Patricia Sullivan, Littlebrook, and Edward Beacham, Johnson Park.

The P.R.S.F. was established by the PHS PTA three years ago as a tax-exempt organization to raise and administer grants to qualified PHS graduates.

DRIVER HITS TREE

On Alexander Street. John R. Macneille, 32, 2737 Lawrenceville Road, was injured at 1:20 Saturday morning when his car failed to make a curve on Alexander near Dickenson and struck a large tree six inches from the curb.

Taken to Princeton Medical Center by the Princeton First Aid Squad, Mr. Macneille was treated for multiple lacerations and contusions of the face and head and lacerations of the knee. Police said that the entire front end and interior of his car were damaged.

Mr. Macneille was issued a summons by Ptl. James Agins for careless driving. Police said that the double curve in the section of Alexander Street where the accident occurred was well lighted and there were no skid marks.

SQUARES? No, but they're planning a square dance, and it's all for the benefit of Princeton High's Scholarship Foundation. The dance will be held November 3, so square it off on your calendar. Left to right are Mrs. Charles C. Adams, co-chairman; Mrs. David L. Eynon, refreshment chairman; and Mrs. Philip H. Hendrickson, the other co-chairman.

Cyclist, Car Meet. Twelve-year-old Jeffrey Shipman, 41 Riverside Drive, was treated at the Medical Center for a contusion of the head and abraision of the elbow Friday afternoon after he ran into the side of a car turning from Nassau onto Cedar Lane.

There were no charges. Police made no investigation at the scene because of a late report of the mishap.

GYPSIES ARE CHARGED

With House Entry. Two young women, described by Township police as gypsies who could neither speak English nor write their names, have been charged with breaking and entering a Stockton Street home and larceny.

Arrested Friday shortly after 5 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Mary Lanahan, 252 Stockton, were Baboi Abroll, 23, and Surri Babai, 19. Both gave police a Newark address.

Neither could speak English, and both had to sign Xs on the arrest warrant in place of their names. Each has been released in $1,000 bail, pending their scheduled appearance this Wednesday in Township court.

Police report that Mrs. Lanahan, after arriving home, thought she heard some movement on the second floor as she was thumbing through her mail. Not sure, she summoned a neighbor, who confirmed that someone was upstairs. They called police.

The nearest patrol car when the alarm was broadcast was a Borough car occupied by Det. Thomas Michaud and Chief Michael Carnevale. They entered the Lanahan home and caught one of the suspects at the foot of a stairway and the other in the master bedroom.

TEENAGERS CHARGED

With Entering, Larceny. Two Kendall Park teenagers, 16 and 17, have been charged by Township police with breaking and entering and larceny.

The two were apprehended last week by Sgt. Anthony Pinelli and Det. Norman Servis after a resident called reporting two suspicious youths around her home on Prospect Avenue. They were taken to the Mercer County Youth House in Trenton and released the next day to await action by a Mercer County Juvenile Court.

The two were charged with entering a house on Prospect Avenue and another on Poe Road. Although the youths were allegedly inside the two homes, police say that the owners report nothing missing. Ptl. Jerry Offredo investigated both entries.

ARSON IS BLAMED

In PHS Costume Fire. Borough police say that a fire Monday in a stage area of the Princeton High School auditorium was deliberately set.

Police said that Fire Chief Lawrence Dupraz after answering the 11:45 a.m. alarm requested a member of the Borough's newly-formed arson squad to aid in the investigation. Ptl. Charles Harris responded and from evidence allegedly at the scene determined that the fire

"Crosstown-62" Begins This Thursday

The first over 62 passenger will climb into the big comfortable station wagon this Thursday, as Princeton's Crosstown 62 project moves into gear.

"Crosstown 62" is a program to provide essential transportation for men and women over the age of 62. So far, 200 have signed up. "Crosstown" will take its registered riders to medical or dental appointments or to bank and store on 24 hours notice. Essential errands only.

Anybody who wants to register and hasn't yet had a chance to do so, may call at Borough or Township Hall, or the Princeton Public Library between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. To register, it's necessary to show proof of age: Medicare card, driver's license, birth certificate.

After registration, the Crosstown rider is eligible for a ride at 25 cents round trip. Reservations must be made 24 hours in advance (call Friday for a Monday reservation.)

The number to call for a ride is 924-6176, between 9 a.m. and noon, Monday thru Friday. The co-ordinator at the other end of the telephone call is Sandy Rabinowitz. Drivers of the station wagon are Bruce Forer and Jimmy Miner.

had been the work of an arsonist.

The fire was confined to theater costumes in a box in an unlocked storage area above the stage. It was extinguished by the school's automatic sprinkler system. A chest of drawers was scorched.

Ptl. Harris and Juvenile Officer Douglas Watson are continuing the investigation.

DRIVER FINED $205

For Revoked List Violation. Mark W. Jeffries, 20, 297 Moore Street, was fined $200 and $5 court costs Monday by Judge Philip Carchman for driving while on a revoked list.

Mr. Jeffries also paid $15 for operating an unregistered vehicle. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

Susan S. Gerken of Hopewell was fined $15 for careless driving.

TWO ARE CHARGED

With Marijuana Possession. Two Township men have been charged by Township police with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana.

Lee A. Ramallo, 21, 437 Ewing Street, and his brother, Raymond, 19, were arrested Sunday afternoon by Ptl. Mario Musso as they sat in their car on Mount Lucas Road.

Ptl. Musso allegedly observed them smoking an unusual-looking pipe and investigated. Both were scheduled to appear in Township court this Wednesday afternoon.

ARRESTED SECOND TIME

For Assault. Floyd R. Merrill, 21, Old Schoolhouse Lane, Rocky Hill, was arrested last week by Borough police who charged him with participating in the assault September 25 of a Princeton University student in Prospect Gardens on campus.

After being issued a complaint summons, he was released, pending his appearance in Borough Court October 24. Police report that Merrill was arrested earlier in connection with another assault that took place earlier the same night in Prospect Gardens.

Gangs of youths numbering from 10 to 14 were involved in the two attacks, Chief Michael Carnevale reported this week that Borough Juvenile Officer Douglas Watson has since interviewed scores of people in the continuing investigation. He added that some polygraph examination might be given in the future as part of the police investigation.

SCHOOL AGENDA

Looks Light. The contract with Princeton's teachers will be ratified when the schoolboard holds its October meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Community Park School.

The light agenda also includes a possible report from the Human Relations Committee and enrollment projections for next year. The board will report that the actual enrollment in Princeton's schools was 3,825 on September 30; projected enrollment had been 3,832. For next year, the board is predicting 3,538, reflecting the continuing phase-out of West Windsor plus Princeton's own decline.

TO DISCUSS BROOK FINE

With State, Queenston Common developers will meet, at their request, with George Freidel, acting director of the state's Division of Water Resources, to talk about the $54,000 fine imposed by the Department of Environmental Protection for Queenston's alleged damage to Harry's Brook.

Drew Smithson, attorney who has now taken over Queenston's case from William Baggitt, has arranged for another meeting with the state deputy attorney general who handles environmental cases.

"The state has no power to fine until they go through the regular court procedures," Mr. Baggitt declared this week, "and this, they haven't done. They have only 'invited' us to pay the fine."

Mr. Baggitt said again that Sandean Construction had been in contact with state engineers on the Harry's Brook situation. The company is paying $30,000, he said, to build a retaining wall and he added, "It is not a case of obstruction of Harry's Brook and the brook has suffered no damage. By no stretch of the imagination will we pay that fine."

BIRTH LIST

Did you know that Italy has the best barbers and beauticians in the world? According to the authorities, one out of every 84 people in the country is occupied in this fashion. And, furthermore, the services these people perform are very inexpensive. Why not stop, when you are in Italy, for a haircut, coiffure, manicure? You'll certainly feel glamorous. There's even a hairdresser for children which your children will love since it's a combination zoo, playground and barber shop. This is one of the chosen vacation spots in the world. Make your travel plans through WELCOME ABOARD TRAVEL CENTER, 29 Witherspoon St. Italy is Michelangelo, Marvelous Food and People. There's hardly anything in Italy that's not worth looking at. News Of The THEATRES

"LEMMINGS"

Revue Coming Here. Three performances of the off Broadway revue, "Lemmings" will be given at McCarter Friday and Saturday, October 26 and 27. Both evening performances are sold out, but tickets still remain for a special late show on Saturday, October 27, at 11 p.m.

In the touring company are John Belushi, Chevy Chase and Nate Herman of the original New York company, plus Zal Yanovsky (used to be with the Lovin' Spoonful) and Peter Ebling, who was one half of the Times Square Two.

"Lemmings" derives from the National Lampoon, and it's best known for its parody of a huge rock music festival — the "Woodshack Festival," a satire with no holds barred jibes at Bob Dylan, Joan Baez, James Taylor and The Rolling Stones.

"CISCO PIKE"

At McCarter. Kris Kristofferson's "Cisco Pike" is next in the Movies at McCarter series, to be shown next Tuesday at 8 p.m. The film, made last year, documents life in the world of Hollywood, rock music and dope.

Kristofferson plays an ex drug dealer, blackmailed into entering the drug world again by a dishonest detective, played by Gene Hackman. In the supporting cast are Viva, the former Andy Warhol superstar, musician Doug Sahm and Karen Black. Several of Kristofferson's own songs are on the soundtrack.

IN PERSON. . . . . .

Bette Davis. An hour long program of highlights from Bette Davis movies will be shown at McCarter on Sunday, October 28, at 8 p.m., with a personal appearance and commentary by the star herself.

Miss Davis will comment on her screen career and answer selected questions which the audience will be asked to submit in advance. Films chosen for excerpting are "All About Eve," "Of Human Bondage," "Jezebel," "Dark Victory," "The Letter" and "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?"

John Sprinzer, the film historian, will introduce Miss Davis and moderate the question and answer part of the evening. Tickets are now on sale at the McCarter box office.

CANCELLED

McGuinn, Taj. The Roger McGuinn concert scheduled for this Saturday and the Taj Mahal concert blocked in for November 16, have been cancelled, McCarter Theatre announced this week.

They will be rescheduled for later dates, and ticket holders may either obtain a refund at the McCarter box office, or keep their tickets. All tickets will be honored on the new dates.

ALBEE PLAY IS CAST

For Community Players. The first production of the season for Princeton Community Players — Edward Albee's "Everything in the Garden" — has been cast and is in rehearsal for performance November 9, 10 and 11 and 15, 16 and 17.

In the cast are Rosemarie Archieri, George Cockcroft, Allan Salkin, Paula Parcless, John Wible, Susan Zimmerman, Jean Delgado, Steve Levy, Kathy Zox, Loyal Watterworth and Robert Cromwell. Allan Pierce is the director.

Subsequent plays this season will be "The Killing of Sister George," "The Loves of Cass McGuire" and "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running."

POPSICKLE TIME

New Children's Theatre. The Popsickle Players, an improvisational children's theatre group, will open this Saturday morning with a 10:30 a.m. performance in Princeton Inn College.

The Players, operating with a grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, will present a series of Saturday morning performances for children at Princeton Inn College. For the past two years, the actors have been playing in elementary schools and community centers throughout the state.

SEASON TO OPEN

For Theatre Intime. This week a pair of one act plays open the Theatre Intime season. The plays are "Adaptation," by Elaine May and "Next," by Terrence McNally.

Elaine May directed both of these plays as a double-bill during the 1969 off Broadway Season. The two one act plays are linked in theme and mood and made up the first program of one acts by different authors to be named a collective Best Play.

Both of the comedies will open Thursday and run through Saturday, and the following weekend. Tickets may be purchased at Murray Theater or by calling 452 8181. Ticket prices are $2 and $3. Performances will begin at 8:30.

Theatre Intime's Second production of the year, a pair of one-acts entitled "Balls," by Paul Foster, and "The Successful Life of 3."

To be directed by Intime regular Chris Talbott. They will open on November 8, and will run November 8, 9, 10, 15, 16, and 17. Advance reservations can be made by calling the Theatre Intime box office, at 452 8181.

PHS IS READY

With Hart - Kaufman Play.

"Once in a Lifetime," the Hollywood satire by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, will be given by Princeton High School's "Drama '74" group on Friday and Saturday, November 2 and 3. Performances will be in the band room of the high school at 8 p.m.

GOLDMAN COMEDY NEXT

At Artists Showcase Theatre, "The Lion in Winter", a comedy by James Goldman will be the next theatrical offering of Artists Showcase Theatre, this Friday and Saturday and October 26 27.

Although modern in its language and concepts the Play deals with the battle over the succession of Richard the Lionhearted to the throne of England. Because of the play's fiery scenes between Henry II and Elanore of Aquataine, it has been described as a "Period Virginia Woll"

The director is Gerald E Guarnieri Showcase designer and Pennington Players President, who staged Showcase "She Stoops to Conquer" and the record breaking "Jacques Brel" Production. He is assisted by Barbara Dyett of the New Playbillers.

The Production stars Marvin W Stafford of Levittown who was recently seen as Macbeth at Washington Crossing Park and Barbara Freehody Ballner of Cornwells Hts., who was seen in Hamlet and Twelfth Night for Shakespeare '70.

Wayne R. Carter of Trenton appears as Richard the Lionhearted His last effort was

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE ...
... between "dinner" and "dining"?

Memorable drinks, good music for listening or dancing, a beautiful, relaxing setting, an atmosphere of personal welcome and, above all, superb food!

Today we want to tell you about some of the mid-week dining specialties our inspired chefs are turning out in addition to the impressive range of offerings on our regular menu.

On recent mid week evenings, for instance, you might have enjoyed...:
Lobster Riviera — half lobster stuffed with crabmeat, scallops and lobster in a thermidor sauce
Veal Capriccio — tender slices of veal sauteed in wine with fresh mushrooms, herbs and seasonings
Sliced Sirloin Roast with Bearnaise sauce
Brook Trout — fresh, boneless and stuffed with crabmeat
Entrecote of beef — for two

Meanwhile our sweet-toothed dessert chef is constantly dreaming up new after-dinner delights—like Bavarian Plum Pie, Cherry-Almond Mousse and Wintergreen Parfait. (We have to restrain him—he thinks he's a combination of Picasso and C.B. DeMille.)

So if you've enjoyed our menu on weekends, come and see what "special" surprises are in store for you on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. P.S. There's music and dancing in The Club on these mid-week evenings too!

Luncheons to 3 Sundays 1 to 9
Dining to 11 PM After-11 Menu to 1 AM

Incidentally, we're pleased to report that [illegible] are adjusted to reflect the price [illegible] costs from the recent food crisis [illegible] seen in "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" at the Open Air Theatre.

John J. Anastasio will be seen as Geoffrey. He appeared as Macduff in Macbeth this summer and Pennington Vice President George Kulitsas appears as Prince John.

Edwin H. Watkinson, Jr., of Princeton portrays the King of France and Rita Benevengo of Mercerville is seen as Alais, his sister who is betrothed to Richard but loved by his father.

The production runs two weekends, October 19, 20, 26 and 27 at Artists Showcase Theatre, 1150 Indiana Avenue, (near the Brunswick Circle) in Trenton. All seats are reserved.

P.J. & B. IS BACK

With "Carousel." The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical of the late '40s, "Carousel," will be the December production of the P.J. & B. players this year and auditions have been scheduled.

"Carousel" will be given December 6, 7, 8 and 9 at McCarter under Milton Lyon's direction. Auditions are as follows.

Singers and actors: this Saturday, October 20, 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in Prince Hall of Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street, and this Sunday, October 21, from 1 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., same place.

Dancers only: Thursday, October 25, 9 p.m., McCarter Theatre.

Everyone is invited to try out. Those who wish to audition should telephone 921-3765 to make a specific appointment.

CLIMB UP, JACK!

Beanstalk Is Ready. Jack is a marionette and the Giant is a ... well, he's human size, anyway, in the Vagabond Marionettes' production of "Jack and the Beanstalk," due in at McCarter for a pair of performances next weekend.

The marionettes will perform (along with that Giant) at 11 a.m. Saturday, October 27 and 3 p.m. on Sunday, October 28. Publicity releases refer to "a growing beanstalk" so audiences had better be prepared. There are costumes, of course, and music and "several surprises."

GARDEN

A Clockwork Orange may strain your intellect, imagination and sensibilities, not necessarily in that order, but there is no denying that producer - director Stanley Kubrick has concocted a unique theatrical experience.

The controversy surrounding this picture, first released in Dec. 1971 with an X rating and now re-released with an R rating, is brought about by Kubrick's frank filming of scenes of sex and violence. The latter, especially, has been labeled as particularly brutal by some. However, Kubrick is not interested in merely exploiting the two, but blending them in as an integral part of his film.

In a "Clockwork Orange," Kubrick once again ventures into the future, this time into the streets of a welfare society at a time when teenage violence has taken over. The protagonist, Malcolm McDowell, is an unusually vicious young hoodlum, who leads a bunch of other droogs on gang fights, rapes, and muggings.

When society finally decides that he should pay for a murder he committed, he is put into a rehabilitation program, which transforms him into someone completely turned off by violence and sex. Released and back on the streets he is at the mercy of his former gang members and victims, but eventually returns to his former state.

Novelist Anthony Burgess, who wrote the work from which the film is closely adapted, devised a special slang for his characters, which is retained by Kubrick in the screenplay. Viewers hearing this for the first time may have difficulty understanding the Russian basis for the language.

"A Clockwork Orange" made virtually every critic's "best film list," and was selected as the best picture by the New York Film Critics. This is not to say, however, that many won't find it confusing. But for those, who won't be immediately put off by the sex and violence, it should be worthwhile to see what you make of it.

PLAYHOUSE

Visions Of Eight. An impressive look by eight international film makers at some of the events of last summer's Olympics in Munich. All are very well done and one is outstanding.

The best episode is the ten minutes Arthur Penn spends considering the pole vault and in particular the agony of American Bob Seagren trying to win and eventually failing. Done mostly in exquisite slow

MUSIC In Princeton

"HANSEL AND FIGARO" Double Bill. An unlikelier pair than Hansel the lederhosen kid, and Figaro the barber would be hard to find except at McCarter Theatre next Wednesday, October 24 when the Princeton Opera Association presents both on the same day, if not at the same performance.

It's "Hansel and Gretel" and "The Marriage of Figaro," the first to be given for the kids at 10 a.m. the latter for noon and dad at 7:30 p.m.

"Hansel" has become a Princeton Opera Association tradition for Hallowe'en time in Princeton. Renita D'Ippolito staging and Igor Chichagov conducting.

"Figaro" was given this summer at Washington Crossing by the Opera Association and has now moved indoors due to cool weather. Edward Earle is in charge of staging the production and Mr. Chichagov is again the music director.

Clyde Tipton, assistant professor of music at Rider College, will play "Figaro" and Sondra Van Sant who has appeared in many local musicals and operatic productions, will take the role of Susanna. The Count will be played by Ronald Hoffman and the Countess by Virginia Bachalis; both singers were seen in the POA's summer production of "Figaro" in Washington Crossing Park Open Air Theatre.

Other roles will be Cherubino Cheryl Chang; Marcellina, Virginia Cole; Dr. Bartolo, James Arnold, Barbarina, Vicky Casey, Antonio, Stephen Owen, and both Don Curzio and Basilio will be played by Albert Jansson.

It will be a busy day for Vicky Casey (playing the role of the Sandman), Mr. Chang (the mother) and Virginia Cole (the witch) as, in addition to their parts in "Hansel and Gretel", they also have prominent roles in the performance of "Figaro" the same evening.

The father is played by John Woodard, a student of the Academy of Vocal Arts, Philadelphia, who has had principal roles in several POA and local opera productions. As in previous productions, members of the Princeton Regional Ballet will appear as angels for the children's lullaby scene.

The musical direction for both productions will be Igor Chichagov, the stage director for "Figaro" is Ed Earle and for "Hansel and Gretel" — Renita D'Ippolito. The producer for both operas is Pat Harding. Tickets are on sale at McCarter Theatre box office (609) 921-8700.

FIRST CONCERT OCT. 26 For University Orchestra. The Princeton University Orchestra will give its first concert of the season on October 26, Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. in Alexander Hall.

The orchestra, which concluded a highly successful year last May with the performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, has most of its old members back and is reinforced by gifted instrumentalists of the class of '77.

In Professor Westergaard's absence, Mordechai Sheinkman will conduct the Orchestra this season. Mr. Sheinkman, a composer, conductor, pianist and teacher is at present professor of humanities at CUNY (Staten Island).

Bethany Beardslee, soprano, will be the featured artist, performing Tatiana's "Letter Scene" from the opera "Eugene Onegin" by Tchaikovsky. Her interest in the Princeton University Orchestra is of long standing: she accepted the leading role in last year's Opera Theatre production of "Beatrice and Benedict" and her solo appearance at this concert is a credit to the Orchestra and a most generous gesture on Miss Beardslee's part.

Beethoven's "Coriolanus Overture" and Mendelssohn's "Italian Symphony" are the other pieces on the program.

The concert is open to the public, admission free.

FOLK CONCERT SET To Benefit Innisfree. On Friday, October 26, Rich Kaufman will perform "Folk Songs I Like" at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church to benefit Innisfree.

Innisfree, a non profit corporation established in 1970, is a proposed group home for boys between the ages of 12 and 17 who have shown antisocial behavior and who require and could benefit from a stable home environment.

Services provided by the home will include health and medical care as well as counseling on an individual and group basis. The students will attend the neighboring public schools with a supplementary tutorial program provided by the home.

Boys will be admitted without regard to race or religion and the primary referrals will be from the Pennsylvania New Jersey area.

Innisfree will be dependent for support upon free-will contributions, grants from foundations, and fees for services. The major need at this time is for funds to initiate the proposed program and to underwrite the salary of an executive director for a year.

For further information and a program prospectus contact Bud Rue, 883-7601.

MOVEMENT. . . . For Pre-Piano. Pre - piano classes, designed to help children in the fundamentals of musical language before they turn to the keyboard, will be given on Friday afternoons for the Princeton Piano Group by Pat Cline, well-known as a movement teacher for various Princeton organizations.

In these classes, the children will make music, listen to it, and enjoy it with other people. The teacher in such a class uses rhythm instruments, piano and the child's own body, giving the child a head start on the more specific study of an instrument.

Others on the staff of the Princeton Piano Group are Doris Allen who specializes in group techniques; Laura Hayes, Marion Tignor and Shelley Leiner, piano teachers. Classes and lessons are offered for children, teens and adults at all levels of musical experience. Pre-piano work is designed for children age five to seven. Classes are held at the Unitarian Church on Cherry Hill Road.

CHEADLES TO PERFORM

In Westminster Concert. William Cheadle, associate professor of piano at Westminster Choir College, and his wife Louise, who is director of the college's Preparatory Department, will present a duo-piano recital on Tuesday, as part of the 1973-74 Faculty Recital Series.

The recital, which is open to the public without charge, will be held in the Westminster Playhouse at 8 p.m.

As a duo-piano team, the Cheadles have performed many times both in recital and with orchestras. Locally, they have appeared with the Trenton Symphony playing the Mozart "Double Concerto" for the children's concerts, and gave the Trenton area's first performance of the Mendelssohn "Concerto in A flat" with the Princeton Community Orchestra.

The Cheadles' program will include "Fetes" by Debussy-Ravel; "Danza de Jalisco" by Copland; "Sonata in B flat Major" by Clementi; "Sonatina" by Boris Koutzen; "Rondo in C Major" by Chopin; "Scherzo," op. 81 by Saint-Saens; "Circus Polka" by Stravinsky; and "Variations on a Theme of Paganini" by Lutoslawski.

Of special interest is the composition by Boris Koutzen which will receive its first Princeton performance. Dr. Koutzen, who is the father of well-known Princeton concert violinist Nadia Koutzen, composed the eight-minute work in 1944. It received its first performance the following year at Town Hall in New York City by Luboschutz and Nemenoff.

Between 1921 and 1966, when he died, Dr. Koutzen composed some 46 works and nine pedagogical pieces. A graduate of the Moscow Conservatory, he was at the age of 17 the first violinist of the State Opera House Orchestra and a member of the Symphony Orchestra under Serge Koussevitky.

From 1923 to 1927, he was a member of the Philadelphia Orchestra, and from 1937 to 1945 was a member of the NBC Symphony under Arturo Toscanini. From 1925 to 1962, he was head of the violin department at the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music.

Benny Carter to Play

Benny Carter, whose alto sax jazz is a classic in its own time, will appear in concert at McCarter Monday with an all-star jazz sextet. The first notes will be at 8:30 p.m.

Joining Carter will be Clark Terry (trumpet); Hank Jones (piano); Grady Tate (drums); Milt Hinton (bass) and Bucky Pizzarelli (guitar).

Mr. Carter is visiting lecturer in the Council of Humanities and Afro-American studies at Princeton University, and he's been leading a series of seminars and a workshop for advanced students. He has been acclaimed as a leader, composer, arranger as well as soloist, and for Monday's concert, he's chosen to play several of his own compositions.

News Of The Theatres

motion photography, one shot looking up as the vaulter inches, inches over the pole is dazzling. A sequence so strong that it makes you suffer along with Seagren.

Some other "visions" include John Schlesinger's straightforward approach to a British runner in the marathon; Milos Forman's wry, humorous look at the decathlon; Claude Lelouch's study of the losers — certainly the largest contingent at the Games — and Mai Zetterling's superb chapter on weightlifting. She comes up with some very amusing moments as she studies the almost grotesque contestants with considerable detachment.

What comes through in all the segments is the sense of isolation of the athletes. Always one is aware that the athletes themselves cannot be aware of the pomp of the Games, the crowds and everything the Games represent as they concentrate on the one goal they came their for — to win! Anyone who enjoys sports will applaud Visions of Eight.

MONTGOMERY

Paper Moon. An enjoyable tale of a slick con man and his nine-year-old tagalong who turns out to be slicker than he is. Fine performances by Ryan O'Neal as the con man and his real-life daughter, Tantum, as the tagalong set in the grim '30s and directed by Peter Bogdanovich.

O'Neal is a thirtyish conman with snappy shoes, dashing curly hair and topped off by a moustache that he thinks makes him look raffish. You wouldn't buy a used anything from him. But Tantum takes to him at once and sticks with him through thick and thin. And so worldly wise despite her nine years.

When, for example, he uses her orphaned status to swindle a banker out of $200, she bides her time. Later in a crowded restaurant she looks him in the eye and says in a loud voice: "Give me my $200."

This is not a redemption - through - fatherhood film but rather a tough, somewhat bitter study of scrape-along life in the Depression. Although the scenes are often funny, a few hilarious, a lack of joy and kindliness permeates. Indeed, at times the film is almost schizophrenic as it alternates between humor and grimness. No matter. Tantum is one of the best things to happen to Hollywood since Halley Mills.

McCarter Film Protested.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This letter is to protest McCarter Theatre's unexpected and dismaying screening of the preview to "The Last Picture Show," last Saturday morning at "Movies for Kids." This is hardly the type of movie most parents of young children would like their children to see. The lengthly preview had plenty of the kinds of scenes that make this movie inappropriate for children.

My husband and I enjoyed that movie, as adult entertainment, but I can't think what the McCarter managemet was thinking in showing this preview to an audience of not more than one adult per twenty children.

G.O.P. Selling "Nonsense."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Normally, I would not take public notice of campaign advertisements in support of the Republican candidates for the Princeton Township Committee, but a number of those advertisements contained such arrant nonsense that I think in fairness not only to my colleagues Jay Bleiman and Bill Sutphin, but also to Ellen Peterson who, with Jay Bleiman, is a Democratic candidate for the Township Committee and to all the electorate as well, I should try to set the record straight. The thrust of those Republican advertisements has been to imply that the Democrats on Township Committee are irresponsible spendthrifts of public funds; that only Republicans are fiscally responsible.

I can say categorically that all the members of the Township Committee, Democrats & Republicans alike, recognize the responsibility to hold down local expenditures and the local property tax.

This year, for example, while Jay Bleiman has been serving as Mayor, we on Committee, by careful budgeting, were able to effect the lowest rate of increase in four years in the amount of funds to be raised by the property tax for Township purposes. Jay would be the first to point out that the budget was the work of the entire Committee and that he Committee adopted it unanimously.

If the Republican members really thought the budget was too high and could be further reduced, they could have, indeed should have, moved amendments, and failing that, voted against it. But the Committee does not operate on partisan lines. So far as I am aware, there has never been a divided vote on a budget.

As to fiscal responsibility, led me add that it was on Democratic initiative that the Committee considered and adopted this year several important fiscal reforms. We established a capital depreciation account for recurring capital items, setting up a business-like procedure for anticipating and meeting future costs. We adopted a six-year capital budget and program to ensure orderly planning of future capital undertakings and improved public debt management.

We overhauled the procedure for preparing the operating budget. This fixed clearly the responsibility for such preparation and will give the public for the first time — beginning next month — an opportunity to understand departmental requests and problems and the detailed items which make up the overall totals appearing in the final budget resolution.

Of course, there are some extremists in every community who, would spend the taxpayers' money for any and every purpose they consider beneficial; just as there are some extremists who, insensitive to social needs, would like to limit local government essentially to police and fire protection. But there are no extremists of either party on Township Committee. We are all fully aware of the burden the local property tax places on our citizens, especially the lower and middle income families and the elderly on fixed incomes. No responsible candidate of either party can be an extremist. . .

I hope that the voters will disregard the nonsense that appeared in those advertisements, and will concentrate on the qualificiations of the four candidates, deciding which two should be elected to Township Committee on the basis of their records and their proven capabilities.

Sewers Needed Now.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following letter concerning the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority situation has been sent to Borough Mayor Robert Cawley and Township Mayor Jay Bleiman.

ELAINE BEZILLA
President, Area League

LAURA GOLDFELD
Chairman, Housing and Environment Commission

The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area has had a continuing concern with our area's problem of waste water management and has attended Stony Brook Regional Sewer Authority meetings since its inception.

In June, we testified at the SBRSA's public hearing on the Environmental Assessment of the waste water treatment plans. In addition, the Hopewell Valley League of Women Voters sent a letter to the Department of Environmental Protection in July expressing its concern on this issue.

Although several alternative plans had been discussed, after the hearing SBRSA opted for the one-plant system. It is this plan that is now the focus of opposition.

After weighing the evidence for and against the one-plant system, the League feels this plan least satisfied the needs of the region and most violates the spirit of the 1972 Water Pollution Control Act. Commissioner Sullivan of the DEP, also feeling dissatisfaction with the one-plant proposal, developed one of the other alternatives, namely a three plant system, with the Princeton plant receiving prompt government funding.

We believe Commissioner Sullivan's multi-plant proposal takes into consideration three vital questions: 1) the immediate need to solve pressing waste water problems that has forced a moratorium of building in Princeton, 2) the need for time in order to settle the water supply problem of the Stony Brook region, and 3) the need for sound land use planning.

In light of Commissioner Sullivan's warning that the one plant system would probably be doomed after a lengthy environmental impact study is made, we find it difficult to understand SBRSA's apparent cavalier dismissal of the alternative plan, and even their reticence in giving the public a forthright statement of their rationale for choosing their plan vis a' vis Commissioner Sullivan's plan. Their recent press release raises more questions than it answers.

It is imperative that the local government bodies directly intercede and begin to resolve the contradictions involving costs, projected growth of the area, and the ability of the natural resources to accommodate this growth.

Because of the discrepancies involved, we also urge that a top level meeting be called for all concerned parties: SBRSA, DEP, EPA, Environmental groups, and the local municipal boards. We are all responsible for the future growth of this region.

NOTICE

Letters to TOWN TOPICS' "Mailbox" should be typed, double-spaced, signed and received for publication no later than Monday. No letter will be printed without a valid signature and address. Letters longer than 500 words may be edited or omitted entirely, at the discretion of the editor. Letters on subjects not specifically related to the Princeton area may also be rejected.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

Three Meetings Set. The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area has scheduled three candidates' meetings in West Windsor, Princeton Borough and Township and Montgomery Township.

The meetings are designed to allow voters to question political office seekers and convey their own opinions to them.

The schedule follows:

West Windsor. Thursday, October 25, at 8 p.m. in the Maurice Hawk School, Clarksville Road. Candidates for Township Committee, tax collector and tax assessor will be present.

Princeton. Monday, October 29, at 8 p.m. in John Witherspoon School, Walnut Lane. Candidates for Borough Council and Township Committee will be present. Information on the Mercer County Charter Study Commission will be available at the Princeton and West Windsor meetings.

Montgomery Township. Tuesday, October 30, at 8 p.m. in the Burnt Hill Road School. Candidates for Township Committee and Somerset County Freeholder Board will be present.

Voting records for the 16th District will be available.

The League of Women Voters also urges citizens to attend the debate between Democrat Anne Martindell and Republican State Senator William Schluter this Thursday at 4:30 in the Woodrow Wilson Bowl No. 5 on the Princeton campus. The topic is "Honesty in Government."

Sponsors of the debate are the University's Young Republicans and Young Democrats organizations.

the Biggest Problem facing YOU the TAXPAYER is the Design of the Regional SEWER SYSTEM

THE PRESENT PLAN (1A) FOR A SINGLE-PLANT FACILITY WITH INTERCEPTOR WILL, IF APPROVED:

Lead to massive development and a "spread city" from Princeton to Hopewell.
Who needs northern New Jersey right here?

Be more costly than a three plant system.
Wouldn't you like to save $6 million?

Not plan for future water needs.
If we do have a massive population growth in our region, where will the water come from and what will it cost?

Cause delays because it will probably be rejected for funding by the Federal Government.
How long do we need the building moratorium?

Cost a great deal of money ($50 million) and Lake Carnegie and the Millstone River will still be polluted.
Wouldn't you enjoy clean water for low cost family recreation, future water supplies and improving Princeton's beauty?

And last, but not least: The plant will have to be expanded in about five years.

MEETINGS SCHEDULED By Women Voters. The Princeton Area League of Women Voters will open a series of discussion meetings this week for members and the public.

Members will vote on a series of questions involving limitations on contributions and expenditures, the base of campaign funding and the use of the media's "equal time" law. The outcome of this mini election will be sent to the national office, where it will join the results of voting from other states. The league will then, on the basis of its nationwide membership consensus, begin a national effort to reform campaign finance practices.

The league extends an invitation to members of the community to attend one of these meetings this Wednesday, 8 p.m., Rocky Hill Bank; Thursday noon, 12:30, 31 Greenhouse Drive; and Thursday, 8 p.m. 5W Hibben Apartments.

The LWV will reach consensus on land use and the administration of justice this year. For further information about program and membership, call Ann Levine, 924 8123

TOWNSHIP WOMAN VICTIM Of Flim Flam, Theft. A Township woman was victimized Friday afternoon by three men who entered her Kingston Road home under the pretext they were state electrical inspectors.

According to Township police, the three told the woman that the electrical lines in her home were in poor condition and needed repair. After pointing out alleged defects, they told her that they needed a $31.t deposit before they could start. The victim gave them the sum in cash, police said.

The men left a short time later but not before stealing an additional $2,000 in cash from inside the house, police said. The three were described by police as white, one between 45-50, about 6 feet tall wearing coveralls and a baseball cap. The other two were 30 to 40, 5-11, 150 pounds, wearing short sleeve shirts and dark trousers. One was thin, one had a moustache.

The victim told police that she did not see a truck parked outside. Ptl. John Hammond made the initial investigation.

SUBSCRIPTIONS SOUGHT For PHS Scholarships. Princeton High School students begin their annual magazine subscription drive this Thursday.

Through renewals and new subscriptions, the students will help to raise funds to provide scholarship money for members of the class of '74 in need of financial assistance. It is possible to begin or to renew personal and gift subscriptions as well as to take advantage of publishers' discount offers.

Each year students at Princeton High have raised substantial amounts of scholarship money through the drive. In 1973 five students shared more than $1200 of scholarship money.

In areas of the community where students do no call, information about ordering magazine subscriptions may be obtained from Lynn Silverstein, 924 7654.

RAFFLE WINNER At Rocky Hill. The winner of the raffle at Rocky Hill's annual Bid 'n Buy Saturday was Erika Heine of Rocky Hill. The prize was a mink stole, or $325 worth of merchandise from Flemington Furs.

The Perpetual Purple Moose award, donated each year to someone who has given of his time and talents above and beyond the call of duty was presented to Carl Robbins, a native of Rocky Hill.

TENANTS HAVE FRIENDS AT BOROUGH HALL

In every politicol campoign, we hear talk obout housing. Mortin Lombordo ond Joseph Moore, in their first term on the Princeton Borough Council, hove done something for the group thot needs most help — the 30% of Borough residents who rent. Morty ond Joe helped to:

- prevent excessive renl increases, with a rent leveling law (opposed by Republican councilmen).
- pass a tough rental housing inspection law.
- allow overnight parking in municipal lots, a help to renters without private garages.

Obituaries

Professor Whitney J. Oates, 69, the Princeton University classicist who launched the post-World War II project that grew into the National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program, died October 14 in Sarasota, Florida. He had been living in Longboat Key, Sarasota, since his retirement from the Princeton faculty three years ago.

The first incumbent of the Avalon Chair in the Humanities, Professor Oates was a member of the Princeton faculty for 43 years. A 1925 Princeton graduate, who also received his advanced degrees here, he initiated the fellowship program shortly after his return from World War II duty in the Pacific with the Marines.

He conceived the project as a means of interesting young men and women in the profession of scholarship and teaching. It has since been described as the "largest and most successful recruiting campaign in the history of American higher education."

In 1945, the first year of operation, four Woodrow Wilson Fellows were chosen, one of them Dr. Robert F. Goheen who went on to teach and then preside at Princeton. On the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship "alumni roll" are a number of other college presidents — including Dr. William G. Bowen, current Princeton president and Dr. Goheen's successor — and many of the nation's leading scholars.

Authority on Greek Drama. An authority in the fields of Greek drama and ancient philosophy, Professor Oates was largely responsible for the establishment, in 1953, of Princeton's Council of the Humanities. The Council is concerned with every level of teaching and research in the humanities, from undergraduate courses through the recognition of senior scholars in the field.

He was also a member of the National Commission on the Humanities, an 18 member group which in the early 1960's undertook to investigate the state of the humanities in the U.S. and to recommend means of strengthening teaching, scholarship, and creativity in humanistic subjects. These recommendations had signal influence in the establishment by the Congress of the National Foundation for the Arts and the Humanities.

A native of Evanston, Ill., Dr. Oates was graduated from Princeton with Phi Beta Kappa honors. His faculty service here dated from 1927. He was chairman of the Classics Department from 1946 to 1961, and held the Andrew Fleming West Chair in Classics from 1949 until 1962, when he relinquished it to accept the Avalon Professorship. He was a perennial "favorite preceptor and lecturer" in polls conducted by Princeton senior classes.

He was a brother of James F. Oates Jr., former Chairman of the Board of The Equitable Life Assurance Society and former Chairman of the Executive Committee of the University's Board of Trustees, a 1921 Princeton graduate.

In addition to his brother, Professor Oates is survived by his widow, the former Virginia Hill, of Longboat Key; and a daughter, Henrietta J. Oates Kavanaugh, of Burlingame, Calif.

Horatio W. Turner, 86, of Mansgrove, Princeton, and Easton, Maryland, died October 15 at the Princeton Medical Center. He was a retired banker and lawyer and, in later years, was involved in real estate operations in Princeton and Talbot County, Maryland.

A 1905 graduate of the Lawrenceville School, Mr. Turner entered Princeton University, where he joined the University Cottage Club, won the Henry Barnard White Prize in Architecture and, with Henry Fairfield Osborn, founded the Bureau of Student Self Help.

He graduated from Princeton in 1909 and studied law at the office of Bayard Henry of Philadelphia.

In 1912 he was admitted to the Pennsylvania Bar, in 1913 the Maryland Bar. From 1912 to 1923 he was associated with Robert Garrett & Sons, Baltimore bankers.

He married Mary Dixon of Baltimore in 1916, the same year in which he enlisted in the Army as a private. Following World War I, he was discharged, in 1919, with the rank of captain.

Bank Officer. From 1923 to 1930 he was a partner in the New York Stock Exchange firm of Kelby, Drayton and Converse.

During the Depression, he served as an officer of the Bank of Manhattan Co. New York, and as financial vice president of Goucher College, Maryland.

His World War II service was as a civilian in the War Department. He was assistant director of the Office of Civilian Defense, and later became chairman of the Price Adjustment Board (Renegotiation) of the Chemical Warfare Service.

He was a director of the Baltimore YMCA, the Baltimore County Children's Aid Society and the Princeton Social Service Bureau. He was co-founder of the Baltimore YMCA School of Commerce.

Club Activities. He belongs to the Nassau Club and Nassau Gun Club of Princeton, and the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Club of Easton, Maryland.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Dixon Turner; one son, Horatio W. Turner III of Baltimore; one daughter, Mrs. Jeffrey Hazard of Saunders town R. I.; and seven grand children.

The service was held Wednesday in Trinity Church. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery, under direction of The Mather Funeral Home.

In lieu of flowers contributions may be made to Princeton Medical Center.

Mrs. Edward McKeon is in charge of a new table which will have used books and records. Mrs. David Hermann, Mrs. Charles Juelke and Mrs. William Tucker are working on the decorations for the Shoppe. Santa Claus will also put in an appearance around noon.

The Board of Trustees of the Princeton Community Homemaker Service has appointed Mrs. Catherine Phillips as director. Mrs. Phillips assumes her new responsibilities with experience, having served for nine months as assistant to the agency's retiring director, Mrs. Helen Barthelmy.

Mrs. Phillips is a graduate of Jersey City State College with a major in Health Education. She will be administering the 54 homemakers and 60,000 hours of aid given annually by the homemaker-home health aides to Princeton area families where illness or other emergency disrupts a household. The agency, located at 221 Witherspoon Street, may be reached at 924-5862.

Rocky Hill Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a queen's way clothing demonstration at 8 p.m., Thursday, in the Firehouse. Admission is free; refreshments will be served. Peggy Querce and Judy Berkal have been named as co-vice presidents of the auxiliary.

Men's Club of the Jewish Center 9 a.m., this Sunday, at the Jewish Center. William J. Baumol, professor of Economics at Princeton and New York University, will speak on "The Perils of Regulation — We All Suffer." The public is invited.

DINNER TO BENEFIT HADASSAH: Mrs. Bruce Alberts and Mrs. Jacques Fresco, two of the hostesses, plan the gourmet menu for the progressive dinner to be sponsored by Hadassah this Saturday.

Hadassah will sponsor a progressive dinner on Saturday to benefit the Hadassah Medical Organization, which is responsible for all phases of healing and medical teaching and research. With a war currently in progress, funds raised at this time of crisis are exceedingly necessary and crucial.

The evening will begin at 7:30 p.m. with cocktail parties at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Greenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Schwartz and Dr. and Mrs. Steve Farmer.

Guests will then proceed to dinners in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Alberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Begun, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Dreier, Mr. and Mrs. Neville Epstein, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Fresco, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Gordon, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Kasrel, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Marchand, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nathan, and Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Rosenblum. Everyone will get together for dessert at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kane.

There is a limit of 60 couples. To secure a reservation send a check for $36 (per couple) made out to Princeton Hadassah, to Mrs. Jules Schaeffer, 35 Howe Circle, Princeton. You may call Mrs. Robert Bergman for further information at 924-0985.

American Chemical Society, Princeton Section: 8:15 p.m., this Thursday, Room 309, Frick Laboratory, Washington Road. Guest speaker will be Professor Zdenek Valenta, chairman, Department of Chemistry, University of New Brunswick. Dinner at 6 p.m. at the Nassau Inn; for reservations call Mrs. Coffey, 452-3918.

Princeton Newcomers Club: 12:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 8, at the YWCA. Arnold Rosenblum of the National Society of Interior Designers will discuss "New Trends in Flooring".

November plans for Newcomers also include a trip to Washington's Headquarters in Rockingham and Ryland's Inn for lunch. Call Susan Simpson at 924-8497.

The Jewish Community Center of Trenton will sponsor the first Greater Trenton Antiques Show and Sale, featuring 40 dealers, October 21 and 22 at the Center, 999 Lower Ferry Road.

The show will offer a number of attractions, including home cooked meals, a special exhibition of antique color lithographs and wood engravings on loan from the New Jersey State Museum and a door prize of a pair of 18th century prints, courtesy of Pink House, New Hope, Pa.

The opening day will feature a guided tour of the displays by George F. Korn of the New Jersey State Museum staff at 11 a.m., with the show set to begin at noon through 10 p.m.

The second day will feature a lecture at 11 a.m. by Mrs. Lester Greenberg on Chinese Export Porcelain. On that day, the hours of the show will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

One of the outstanding antiques to be shown will be a rare porcelain fruit basket made in Philadelphia in the Tucker Factory, which was in business from 1825 to 1838. This item, valued at $3,000, was made from the identical mold used to make a similar basket on display at the Philadelphia Museum.

Peter B. Kenen, a Walker Professor of Economics and International Finance at Princeton University, will speak on the subject of the Energy Crisis and the Middle-East at the October 24 Hadas-

20 WAYS TO KINDNESS

There are many ways in this world to be kind to others.

But one of the best and surest ways to spread your kindness is to contribute to an organization that spreads your kindness twenty ways—your United Fund-Red Cross campaign.

Once a year you are asked to give where you work, or at home if you favor homework. Giving a fair share of what the Lord has given to you is a fair way to go. Help twenty agencies and the Red Cross with your one contribution this October.

If you wait for someone else to do it—it may not get done. If you wait for someone to solicit your contribution, it may come too late. Why not send the coupon below right now and pledge just a little more of your own human kindness.

Even if you give where you work it will help the cause of human needs which your United Fund-Red Cross campaign can support. One gift goes through twenty agencies—a thousand ways.

Please give!

Clip now, fill in and mail today.

IT'S NEW To Us

FOR THE FIREPLACE. . . .

Bowden's Has It. What started some 20 years ago as a used furniture store with a few fireplace sets has grown into an unique store specializing in fireplace equipment and accessories. It would be hard to visit Bowden's Fireside Shop and not feel that you had seen the widest choice available.

This is certainly the store to fully equip a fireplace beginning with a Saf-T Grate to hold logs that offers more protection because the raised front causes the fire to burn towards the rear. It is self feeding and can be bought in sections to fit any size fireplace, three sections cost $27.

Andirons come in many styles such as the ball, urn or eagle design in brass, wrought iron, a combination of these or the swedish finish. We saw black owls with glowing eyes for $17, wrought iron anchors 18 inches high for $44.95, and brass life size hand cast ducks for $138.

Many of the andirons have matching tool sets, while others incorporate a tool. Swedish finish andirons with a decorative ring carry their poker across the front, $59.95, and twisted andirons that are made in Spain of custom wrought iron have an attached grate, $115.

Screens of all Kinds. We saw sliding screens, free standing ones in sections with graceful arched tops, doors with tempered glass and fitted door screens. Corner fireplaces, arched ones, oversized, or whatever the feature can be easily custom screened.

Fireplace accessories included a wooden basket for holding logs, $9.95; a heavy cotton duck log carrier for bringing them in from behind the garage, $5.95; and a cape cod lighter which makes starting the fire a snap, $14.60 to $29 for a solid brass one.

BY THE FIRESIDE THIS WINTER: Door screens that fit perfectly are especially attractive for arched fireplaces and can be installed by Bowden's Fireside Shop. The screens can be trimmed with brass, wrought iron or swedish finish hardware.

Bowden's also has some lovely non - fireplace items, such as beautiful fiberglass mailboxes with a bird or flower design, $35 and up. Or, you can order a personalized sign post, plain or decorated with a scroll, squirrel, antique car, horses, etc.

We loved a gold leaf weathervane topped by a proud rooster, $200; gun holders shapped like deer, $5.95; a scotty dog that serves as a boot scraper, $1.95; and a horse head hitching post in swedish finish, $29.50.

Bowden's Fireside Shop is at 1731 Nottingham Way (Route 33), Trenton, and it is open from 10 to 5 Monday through Saturday and Monday and Thursday evenings until 9.

ANTIQUES RESTORED

By Karl Gunsser. To Karl Gunsser an antique chair, sideboard or table is a piece of history to be cherished and carefully restored. Such furniture must never be refinished because this would strip the piece of the identity it has acquired in its travels through the years.

Therefore, Mr. Gunsser very delicately handles each antique. He strips the crazed 18th century shelac with q-tips so as not to hurt any stencilling; never sands as this would destroy the patina created by years of air, light and handling; and carves a missing leg or repairs a broken chair back with wood of the period.

Antique wood is not always easily acquired, but one source Mr. Gunsser has found is 100 year old pine church pews, $100 a foot. However, if old wood is used the repairs become virtually undetectable, and for a treasured antique, cost can be meaningless.

When the restoration is completed, he applies several coats of varnish that can be worn out over the years and in this way keeps the history of the piece protected.

"One Hell of a Hobby." Karl Gunsser told us that this is "not work, but one hell of a big hobby." In fact, it all began as a hobby and 21 years ago when he moved here from New York, he was working full time for U. S. Steel in industrial instrumentation.

Then in 1963 he decided to try to turn his love of working with furniture into a livelihood, and within several years found himself with a backlog of work.

He never knew much about his father's family, but in 1968 when the Trenton Times wrote an article about his work he heard from a John Gunsser who runs an antique shop in Pennsylvania. Through him he learned that he was part of a long line of German cabinet makers. Although his father was not in this trade, this skill and love of furniture has obviously been passed down through the generations.

He also does appraisals, makes custom furniture from wood he buys by the tree and seasons himself, and teaches two classes. One class given at Princeton's YWCA, teaches students how to recognize and value antiques; the other is with a small group of women who have been working under his supervision for a few years.

His current favorite interest is the shop's new location last January on River Drive in Titusville. Once the property of the Titusville Lumber and Coal Company, the buildings include the last ice house in Hopewell Township and an 18th century barn. Mr. Gunsser feels this is a perfect setting for his historic furniture, and hopes that money will somehow become available to restore the various buildings.

If you are interested in any of his services, call him at 737-0800.

TILE DISCOUNT EXPANDS

Moves to New Store. Nine years ago Jules and Ravna Marcus opened a small flooring store specializing in over the-counter tiles. Over the years they began to take on installation jobs, and earlier this month, Tile Discount Center moved into a new store with three times the space of the original one.

The new store has tiles by Amtico, Eden, Congoleum, and Armstrong. Within the Armstrong line, there is Fancy Free, a cushioned vinyl tile that has coordinated fabrics and vinyl wallpapers, and Solarian, the popular no-wax tile, $11.95 a square yard installed.

The store still has tiles in boxes for the do-it-yourselfer, many carpeting brands, and as a new feature a choice of wallpapers. Armstrong has a color coordinator book that will help you plan the color scheme of a kitchen, den or whatever room; and if you want further help, Tile Discount Center will contact a decorator for you.

Tile Discount Center located at Olden and Princeton Avenues, Trenton (next to Cinema I and II). It is open from 9 until 9 Monday through Friday and until 5:30 on Saturday.

MAKE THE SPLASH

Halloween at River's Edge. Plans for the first open party at the new River's Edge, the colorful Lambertville restaurant overlooking the Delaware, include enough "firsts" and unique twists to make it the advance highlight of the Halloween season.

The theme for the Friday, October 26, splash is "Red White and Blue Revue," and it gives dinner guests a triple choice: wearing any one of these colors, or all three, or a costume with a patriotic theme.

The evening will be filmed in color and the film highlights will be shown as a special River's Edge attraction on another evening.

The Red, White and Blue party will also launch a new dance combo in the area. Chick Corvan and the Continentals, comprised of four top pros in the music field who have just joined forces to become regulars in the spacious River Room at the River's Edge.

Featuring dance music of the 40's to the 70's, the Continentals team Vince Rossi on the saxophone, Tom Lucas on the piano, Larry Campbell on guitar and Chick Corvan on drums. Simultaneously, Tony Inverso and The River's Edge Combo will be playing for dancing in The Club, the restaurant's night spot.

A costume parade will be judged by a trio of celebrities, and prizes for outstanding costumes will range from a $100 first prize to cases of champagne for runners up.

The management reports that the Red, White and Blue party will feature the regular complete River's Edge menu, with no special admission tickets other than an advance reservation.

There is something special about the menu, however. They have recently been reprinted with lower prices, reflecting the drop in food costs from their highs this summer.

"When the recent food shortages drove costs through the ceiling, restaurants had to increase their menu prices," commented Sheldon Pierce who's in charge of River's Edge kitchens and menus. "Now that costs have subsided on many items, we're bringing our menu prices back down. It's only fair."

When was the last time you heard of that being done?

Hand-Knit Items at Loft

Beautiful, handcrafted, wearing apparel from the Adirondak Mountains is on sale at the Loft Art Gallery. Two women, Tibby Gross and Ann Wise, loom and hand knit original designs into their scarves, shawls, purses, and hangings.

Tibby Gross lives in a geodesic home at the very top of a mountain in Keene Valley, New York. She works in a large loom with natural wools in subtle stone tone colors.

Ann Wise runs the Knit 'N Shop in Lake Placid, N. Y. She owns, tends and shears 63 sheep on her old farm. She utilizes the natural wool color in her sweaters, afghans, hats and gloves. Samples of this wool allow one to special order skeins for $2.50 each.

Both women will fill orders for special color, design and size.

MANY EXHIBITS ON VIEW

At University Art Museum. Baroque art emerging in the 17th century, was an intense and vigorous reaction to the orderly and more restrained styles of the Renaissance. Sculpture, architecture, painting and drawing all took on a new sense of activity and movement expressed in different forms in each of the creative arts. A great deal more drama, action and the introduction of complex details were to be found.

The use of asymetric compositions, the introduction of emotionally charged religious subject matter and a great sense of energy were among the resulting characteristics.

The featured display of prints and drawings by Jusepe de Ribera at the University Art Museum and the exhibition in the Prints and Drawing Gallery reflect these notable Baroque characteristics. It is possible to appreciate this significant stylistic evolution while enjoying an exciting and sensitive collection of beautiful art.

The Ribera display is the first exhibition of this 17th century painter in the United States as well as the first monographic exhibition of prints and drawings by a Spanish Baroque artist. The graphics and drawings have been selected from private and public collections throughout the world.

Technically beautiful etchings and drawings deal with tortured saints, mythological subjects and some of the more miserable aspects of the human condition. Finely wrought studies and sketches also reflect some of the imaginative thinking and artistic exploration that was the basis of later, larger works.

Baroque drawings from Holland, France and Italy reflect the mannerisms of this style while displaying regional differences. This small but interestingly balanced collection of work in several different media provides interesting contrasts points of view when studied together with the larger, more homogeneous display of Ribera.

AT THE ART MUSEUM: The etching, "St. Jerome and the Angel," is part of the Jusepe Ribera collection now on exhibit at the University Art Museum.

At the Drawing Room. "English Illustrations and Cartoons of the 19th Century" is a happy look into an earlier time. An entertaining panorama of life styles, customs and significant events of the era are related by some of the better known and most skillful illustrators of the time.

Book plates, landscape, cartoon and sketches are included and reflect well upon each other, creating a balanced image of the period. Illustrations from children's books, wry comment on the theatre and politics and many amusing visual anecdotes of 19th century England amuse while revealing themselves as fine art.

Ink drawings, pencil sketches, watercolor and combinations of these media are included in work by H. K. (Phiz) Browne, Kate Greenaway, Sir John Tenniel, Sir Leslie Ward (Spy), Alfred Crowquill and others.

At the Loft Gallery. Acrylics by Phyllis Lifschutz and watercolor and drawings by Alexander Lee are featured at the Loft Gallery. Ms. Lifschutz handles her paint in a most agreeable manner in the many interpretive landscapes on display. Fluid brushwork, rich overpainting and glazing all blend to create gently - toned, richly painted views softly revealing the essence of the landscape.

Drawings by Mr. Lee compliment the paintings with a fine display of craft and sensitive line and tone. Delicately - wrought landscape and carefully-executed architectural studies display this artist's skill. Several watercolors in traditional modes by this artist are also on display.

At the Eye for Art. Paintings and drawings by Alfred Hopkins present an unusual approach to landscape. Horizontal views are presented in small shaped areas included within a larger rectangular canvas.

They are surrounded by large white areas creating a double silhouette intensifying the metaphysical effect of the paintings. Using an impasto technique and a soft palette, Hopkins creates distant landscapes populated by vague flying forms. Brushwork is utilized to create a great sense of movement in ostensibly tranquil views.

At the Present Day Club. Landscape by Colette Leland can be seen at the Present Day Club, 92 Stockton Street. Working in a traditional manner in watercolor and oils, Ms. Leland has skillfully developed her impressions of her surroundings.

Many variations of style are exhibited but her work is most interesting where she has applied her able watercolor technique to her oils and worked in a more fluid fashion. A good sense of balance is seen in nicely composed pictures.

Pharmacy Footnotes

by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm.

Riboflavin is a growth vitamin. Milk, eggs, fruits, legumes, and many other vegetables contain riboflavin in varying amounts. Riboflavin is necessary for growth and respiration of cells. You need it to help your cells live and keep them functioning. The average daily human requirements for riboflavin is generally about two milligrams. Although not many become deficient in riboflavin alone, many people suffer deficiencies in a combination of B vitamins. How much vitamin B have you had today? For all your vitamin needs speak to the experts at THE FORER PHARMACY, 160 Witherspoon. At Forer, we take the time to answer questions you may have regarding a medicine. We will explain the doctors directions and point out things to do, or not to do, while using this medication. This is a service we personally give all of our customers. Phone 921-7287.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernord

Here's a World Series quiz for you. Here are names of four players who were involved in memorable World Series moments. See if you can tell what each of these players did to make them famous in World Series history: Al Gionfriddo, Floyd Bevens, Dusty Rhodes and Enos Slaughter. Al Gionfriddo, a substitute outfielder, made one of the most fantastic catches of all-time in the 1947 Series to save a game. Bevens was within only one out of pitching a no-hitter in the 1947 Series when he gave up just one hit and lost not only his no-hitter but also the game. Rhodes a bench-warmr, put on an amazing pinch-hitting display in the 1954 Series, driving in key runs in each of the first three games. And Slaughter scored the winning run in the 1946 Series by racing from first base to home plate on a SINGLE!

Oddly enough, the losing team in the World Series once got more money than the winning team. In the 1903 World Series the winning Red Sox players got $1100 each while the losing Pirates got $1300 per man. The reason was that the Pirate owner gave his share to the players, so that for the only time in history, the losers got more than the winners.

I knew a person earning $25,000 who came down with a chronic illness, began using up all his savings and then started hoping to die—just to save something for his family. Our new $100,000 catastrophe major medical policy would have helped.

GOOD FOR THE LEAD — BRIEFLY: When Scott Morrison kicked the first of his two field goals at Ithaca, Princeton led Cornell, 3 to 2. Second-half outburst worth 28 points then deluged Tigres, who lost third straight, 37-6. (Bob Matthews Photo)

Loss of First Four Games Would Break 103-Year Old Princeton Record

History of a nature that no Princeton football fan will enjoy witnessing may be made Saturday at Palmer Stadium. If the Tigers lose to Colgate, they will become the first team here since the sport was originated in 1869 to lose its first four games.

The stage was similarly set two years ago, after the 1971 Princetonians had lost to Rutgers, Columbia and Cornell. When Colgate arrived on the scene, however, guided by a sophomore quarterback named Tom Parr, the Orange and Black managed to stave off the unwelcome precedent by defeating the visitors, 35 to 12.

Saturday's assignment will not be anywhere near as simple a task. Parr has matured, is directing a highly-capable wishbone offense for a veteran backfield and is listed by his college as its first true all-American candidate in more than a quarter-century.

The numerous options Parr uses, plus his ability as a passer (an average close to .500) make him a constant threat. With six games still to play in his senior year, he has already broken the all-time Colgate mark for total offense.

QUICK LOOK AT COLGATE

OFFENSE: Averaging better than three touchdowns a game paced by versatile offense directed by quarterback Tom Parr.

DEFENSE: Unimpressive Colgate would be unbeaten if defense were equal to its offense.

CHIEF ASSET: Parr, already Colgate's all-time offensive leader. A leading pro prospect.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Question of whether offense can score more points than defense yields.

Mark van Eeghen, a 214-lb. running back who has given Princeton trouble for the past two seasons, is the principal ball carrier. The visitors also have a two-year letterman at fullback in Bob DeRosa and a sound back-up for van Eeghen in junior Bob Metivier.

Defensive difficulties (every opponent has scored at least three touchdowns against the New Yorkers while they have been compiling a 2-2 mark) are still a persistent problem. Outcome of the game will hinge on whether Parr and his supporting cast can hang more points on the board than Princeton can with the passing of Ron Beible and the running of Walt Sniekenberger, but off early-season performances by both teams, Colgate comes here as the favorite.

TIGERS SMOTHERED

By Cornell Defense. The best defensive performance against a running game since the Ivy League was invented 17 years ago made life miserable for Princeton at Ithaca Saturday. To the Tigers' credit, they contributed nearly two periods of surprisingly good defense of their own, but after the intermission, the pressure was more than they could withstand, and the game deteriorated rapidly into a 37-6 rout.

SPORTS in Princeton

Eleven years ago at Hanover, N.H., it rained Friday and was still raining Saturday when a Dartmouth eleven that eventually went 9 for 9 took complete charge of a mediocre Penn team in a sea of mud. Unable to pass in such conditions, the Quakers were debited with minus 22 yards rushing.

On bone-dry PolyTurf under sunny skies at Ithaca Saturday, Princeton's ground game was thrown for a net loss of 19 yards. So completely did Cornell's highly-skilled defense dominate the line action that Tiger backs were often tackled in the process of taking hand offs, and it is a wonder that of the three fumbles lost, only one occurred that way.

The quarterbacks suffered from the constant breakthroughs, too, Ron Beible and Dave Mistretta losing 55 yards between them, sometimes as abortive ball carriers, more often while seeking to pass. Stunting Cornell linemen made it difficult for Princeton linemen to key on their blocking assignments, tacklers often blowing right by them without much contact.

Referee in Error. The first fumble for which Princeton was charged was one of the most atrocious decisions a referee has made in this or any other year. On the Tigers' first play from scrimmage, Beible dropped back to thwow a screen pass into the left flat. Within a split second of the time he let the ball go from his upraised arm, it was batted back over his head. Despite the fact that he had released it voluntarily, the referee permitted a mad scramble to ensue as the ball bounded 15 yards back into the end zone, and when Walt Sniekenberger finally fell on it, the play was ruled a safety. In the long run, the decision had no effect on the outcome, but the Tigers had to kick after Cornell had been awarded two points, and it served to intensify the early pressure placed on the outmanned defense.

As has been the case so often in the past three seasons, the Tigers were unable to cross the goal line when they were within the opposition's 10-yard line. After they stalled out twice early in the second period, Scott Morrison booted a field goal each time, but the 6-2 lead they held for ten minutes of the second quarter was their only solace of the bruising afternoon.

Cornell drove 82 yards in 15 plays as the clock was running out on the first half. Four times the Ithacans' attack converted vital third downs, the back-breaker on a third and 17 situation on which the losers flubbed a chance to go into the dressing room with a four-point lead.

21 Points in 15 Minutes. When action resumed, Cornell quickly took complete charge. After a 52-yard, wind-supported attempt for a field goal missed only because it hit the top of the left upright, the Red rolled for three quick touchdowns.

Ivy Football Action Is Recording Numerous "Firsts"

With the Ivy League season less than a third gone, it is already apparent that it will be a year marked by numerous performances never before recorded among the Ancient Eight.

It is, for example, quite likely that the 1973 champion will emerge from among Cornell, Harvard and Penn, and neither of the first two has ever won the title before. Wholly out of the running as early as mid October are the two leading contenders in the decade of the 60s, Dartmouth and Princeton while Yale, which has normally dominated the action with these two is a near total casualty.

Never before (as long as football has been played) have Dartmouth and Princeton simultaneously lost their first three games. And never before have Dartmouth, Princeton and Yale managed but a single victory in nine starts among them.

The Tigers are suffering in a variety of ways. In their century of football with Columbia, the Lions never were able to go three straight games without a defeat as they now have, and Cornell never before won four in a row from the Orange and Black.

On the other side of the coin, Columbia's 57 to 0 shellacking at Harvard Saturday goes into the books as the most one sided score in Ivy football history.

Quarterback Mark Allen was responsible for each, first crossing on a keeper and then beating the Tigers' secondary with accurate passes on which the receivers made the defense look very bad. It was 30 to 6 as the final 15 minutes began, and the victors' added another TD against Princeton reserves. Cornell coach Jack Musick proved something of an executioner, keeping many of his regulars in after he had built a 24-point lead and calling every play himself to the final whistle.

With a third of the season gone, it is apparent that two problems stand head and shoulders above the many which continue to plague Princeton football. One, conceivably open to a measure of improvement as the season wears on, is the fact that quarterbacking difficulties are hobbling the Tiger offense for the fourth season in a row.

Beible had his best day as a passer, connecting on 11 of 21 for 187 yards, but he is slowed by chronic knee problems and Bob Casciola's veer offense may not develop satisfactorily even when November arrives. Beible is, nonetheless, markedly the best of the four quarterbacks on this year's squad, and if his knees do not withstand punishment, there is no telling what will bail the Tigers out.

The other problem is far deeper and in all likelihood far more lasting than the current lack of a take-charge quarterback. A large majority of the best football players on the field Saturday were wearing Cornell red, and as long as those on both sides of the field played to the extent of their ability, there was simply no reason for Princeton to win.

The outcome marked the first time in the rivalry dating back to 1891 that Cornell has managed four straight victories over the Orange and Black. The freshman team at Ithaca is already 3-0 and good football seems firmly enough entrenched there so that the balance of power against this particular opponent may remain unchanged for some time.

HUN BLANKED AGAIN

At Delbarton Saturday, Blair Academy (3-1) pushed the Hun School football team one step closer to the winless season abyss last week with a 13-0 victory. For Hun, it was its second scoreless game in a row and its fourth loss without a victory.

Hun will try again Saturday when it travels to Morristown for a 1:30 contest with Delbarton. Hun coach Dave Leete described the upcoming game as sort of a "test whether we'll win any game this season."

The contest with Blair followed a familiar pattern for Hun: falling behind early and then never able to get back in the game because of a punchless offense.

Blair scored both its touchdowns in the first period. A pass by Hun quarterback Kevin Dwyer was intercepted by Blair's Curtis Merchant, who returned it 30 yards for the six points. Minutes later, Dave Waddel returned a Hun punt 85 yards.

The remainder of the game was a Mexican standoff. "We played pretty good defense," agreed Leete. He singled out the defensive play of two of his linebackers, Lonnie Cathel and Mike Seward, for praise.

Some missed blocks were partly responsible for a Hun offense which, he said, "just didn't get going."

PHS, Now 3-1, Hopes to Win Again Saturday

WHO'S GOT THE BALL? Princeton High's Don Compbell (in the white) hos it and hos just run for o first down in the second quorter. The Little Tiger holfbock ran hard into Hillsborough defender Tim Mobley, knocking him flot. Overall, however, the opposite was true: Hillsborough knocked PHS flot end out of the unbeoten ronks with o convincing 33-21 win.

In a battle between unbeaten teams, Princeton High School saw its three game football string end Saturday when visiting Hillsborough ran and passed its way to a 33-21 victory.

PHS had the opportunities to score but the offense couldn't put points on the board when it counted. "They just whipped us," said PHS coach Dick Wood.

The Little Tigers will be severely tested again in their next start. They will travel to Bridgewater Raritan West Saturday for a 1:30 contest and Wood remarked after watching the Golden Falcons edge a strong Somerville team, 14-13 a week ago, "if anything, they looked better than Hillsborough."

Like PHS, Bridgewater will be coming off a loss, having been tripped up by South Plainfield, 13-8, on Saturday.

Hillsborough combined the passing of quarterback Charles Quirico to 6-2 end Bob Farrell (8 completions, 2 touchdowns) and the running of Louis Quirico (3 touchdowns) and 140 pound Fran McDonough to jolt the Little Tigers. The Raiders led at the half, 27-7.

The visitors came to play. After PHS took the opening kickoff and managed to drive as far as the Raiders' 30 before giving up the ball, Hillsborough struck swiftly. On the third play from scrimmage, needing nine yards, Lou Quirico scampered 68 yards down the sidelines to score the first of eight TDs in the game. A lot of PHS tackles were missed en route.

Before the period was over Hillsborough drove 66 yards in eight plays, as back-to-back passes from Quirico to Farrell moved the ball from the Raiders' own 35 to the PHS 19.

Unable to establish any rhythm and looking tight, PHS couldn't get anything going. Hillsborough continued to take it straight to the Blue and White, however, marching 65 yards in seven plays — the drive capped by a 13 yard TD aerial to Farrell. That made it 21-0, and PHS looked like anything but the team that had been ranked fifth among big schools in the Delaware area.

Zinsmeister Goes 75 Yards. History repeated itself when PHS halfback Bobby Zinsmeister gathered in the return kickoff on about his own 25 and ran it all the way back for Princeton's first score. Last year against Hillsborough, Zinsmeister had also scored the Little Tigers' first TD in a 34-28 loss to the Raiders when he returned a punt 85-yards.

Aided by two face mask penalties and a holding penalty against PHS, Hillsborough was soon knocking again but PHS managed to hold. Four plays later, Jeff Drummond's punt was blocked by Gary Bell of Hillsborough and the Raiders recovered inside the 10. Two plays later with one minute remaining in the half, Farrell took a pass over the middle between defending Steve Kopp and Zinsmeister and the visitors owned a 27-7 lead.

Could PHS come back? Zinsmeister's kickoff return had been only the third touchdown scored against the Raiders this season. Hillsborough lent a hand by fumbling the opening kickoff, Guy Mendelson and Alex Kinnan recovering for PHS. Pete Watson, taking over for starting quarter back John Mooney, was unable to move the club but PHS got another chance when Keith Rendell fell on another Raider fumble on the visitors' 14

This time, PPHS capitalized. From nine yards out Zinsmeister took a short pass from Watson and with a spirited second effort bulled his way over the goal. Steve Tomlinson converted the extra point, his 16th in 16 tries.

Wood added that he thought Mark Campbell had played well at end, filling in for Mike Diamond who was injured in the ankle early in the game and sat out the rest of the action.

Reminded that the contest was not a Mercer County League game and did not count in the standings where PHS is currently tied for the lead with Notre Dame, Wood replied softly, "Yes, I suppose you can find some solace in that." But he didn't sound very convincing.

"We know we played a bad game. I hope it's the worst one."

IVY OUT OF RACE

In Flag Football League, Wasting a 12-2 halftime lead, Ivy Inn dropped its fourth contest in five starts, losing to Candlelight Lounge, 22-12, Sunday in a Mercer County Flag football league. The defeat eliminated Ivy's chances of gaining a spot in the post-season playoffs.

Two fine runs by halfback Bill Bartolino, a 15-yard sweep and a 96-yard jaunt off tackle, lifted Ivy to a 12-2 lead over Candlelight, and it appeared to be on the way to its first victory. Candlelight's only points came when Bill Sandvik was nabbed in his end zone on a halfback option play.

However in the third period Candlelight intercepted a pass and scored a short time later making the score 12-8. This gave the winners some added momentum and they produced two more touchdowns, one on a long run, the other on a short pass.

A controversy arose, when Candlelight leading, 16-12 at the time, had the ball on Ivy's 15-yard line, and was granted a first down on the one-foot line, without having made a first down. A team must go 20 yards to make a first down in flag football.

Given four more downs Candlelight managed to get its third score and put the game on ice. A protest to league officials is being considered by Ivy.

In other action, Sportsworld whipped Chambersburg, 40-18; Joe and Len's nipped Old Smugglers, 14-6; and Ewing Giants bombed Jo-Jo's, 31-0. All three winners have nailed down spots in the playoffs. Candlelight and Jo-Jo's are still vying for the final berth. Ivy will meet Sportsworld this Sunday at 10:45 at Per[illegible] Field here.

PDS WINS FIRST

Big One This Saturday. Just a little more than 60 seconds into last Friday's game with Trinity, it looked like the same sad story for the Princeton Day football team.

The Panthers fumbled a 12-yard opening kickoff, Trinity recovered, and four plays later had put six points on the scoreboard on a 20-yard pass behind the PDS secondary. Coach John Boneparth buried his head for another long afternoon.

However a steadily improving Panther squad wrote a different ending this time, getting that touchdown back a few minutes later and scoring two more in the second period. [illegible] it was a 32-6 triumph, the first for the Blue [illegible] season, sending the team into its biggest [illegible] on with some [illegible] Wardlaw [illegible] way this Saturday in what [illegible] ably be [illegible] toughest game. Undefeated in [illegible] Wardlaw has a well-coached team loaded with [illegible]

The Panthers will go into [illegible] underdogs, but not without high hopes of [illegible] "We'll just have to rely on our running game, which has developed very well of late, and try and control the ball as much as possible," commented Bone[illegible] parth.

Against Trinity, the PDS offense, led by co-captain Tun Hamid, who rushed for close to 200 yards, showed marked improvement over the first two games.

After giving up the opening touchdown, the Panthers began to move later in the period when Mark Blaxill intercepted a Trinity aerial and returned it to the Trinity 46. Five plays later Hamid barged over from the four.

Keith Thomas then took over and personally accounted for both scores in the second period. He put the Panthers in the lead 12-6, when he scooped up a rolling Trinity punt, ab[illegible] be whistled dead, and ran it 50 yards for a score behind some fine blocking. Hamid went around end for a two-point conversion.

With three minutes left, he added six more points, going 70 yards on a screen pass from quarterback Bill Baggitt.

PDS did not lose any spark between the halves, and quickly scored again in the third period when Hamid went 29 yards off tackle to climax a PDS drive. A short Trinity punt had set the winners up on excellent field position.

The other quarterback, Nick

Brady, ended the scoring for the day, when he went 30 yards on a quarterback keeper. Boneparth said that the addition of plays where the quarterback ran with the ball aided the ground game.

The PDS defense showed well, and Trinity was able to mount only one other threat late in the game, when they had a first and goal from the six, but the Panthers rose to the occasion and halted the drive short of the end zone.

Win or lose at Wardlaw, the Blue and White will be in better shape next week with Bill Martin expected to return to fulltime duty. His cast came off last Friday, and the bone has healed well. He'll give the Panthers a big lift for their final three games.

TENNIS BENEFIT DEC. 1

In Jadwin Gym. The second attraction in the Jadwin Benefit Series, a professional tennis exhibition, will be held Saturday, December 1. Featured players will include Arthur Ashe, Roscoe Tanner, Bob Lutz, Herb Fitzgibbon, Gene Scott and Margie Gengler as well as the top players from Princeton University's varsity tennis teams.

The first event, an exhibition basketball game between the New York Knickerbockers and the Atlanta Hawks, was a tremendous financial success, but fell far short artistically. The Knicks and Hawks played a sloppy brand of ball before an overflow crowd.

Committee co-chairmen for the program, George Vaughn, Jr. and Richard Hargrave, expressed optimism that the attendance at the exhibition would equal that of the sell out crowd at the Knicks and Hawks game.

They pointed out that following the world champion Knickerbockers with world class tennis is indicative of the generous attitude of the University in making it possible to bring activities of the highest quality to Princeton.

Ashe, the possessor of an overpowering game, starred on the United States Davis Cup team for eight years. He claimed the first United States Open in 1968, the first American to do so in 13 years.

Tanner, Ashe's current doubles partner, represents the new generation of players now breaking into the top scene. Ranked No. 5 nationally this year by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, he is perhaps one of the most electrifying of today's young players.

Lutz, using punishing forehands and winning volleys, won this year's World Championship of Tennis doubles title with Stan Smith. He took the 1972 U.S. Pro Tennis Crown in Boston defeating John Newcombe, Rod Laver, Cliff Drysdale and Tom Okker to become the first American in 10 years to win that crown.

Gene Scott, a former top ten player, is currently President of the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association as well as 35 and over national champion. Television viewers will remember Scott as one of the commentators of the Billie Jean King-Bobby Riggs match.

Herb Fitzgibbon, Princeton class of '64, and former varsity tennis captain is a top national ranked player and President of the Friends of Princeton Tennis.

Margie Gengler played No. 1 in women's singles for Princeton University for three years and is ranked No. 1 in singles by the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association.

The benefit will be an all-day affair, and will start with special attention being given to the junior (18 and under) players. From 2 until 4, on level E of Jadwin, any junior

Play Paddle Tennis This Winter

The Princeton Recreation Department Women's Paddle Tennis League is currently forming for the 1973-1974 season.

Those interested in participating should call Jane Shillaber, 921 9206, or Bebe Karstad, 921 2617. Before calling, please give some thought as to days and hours on which you will be able to play.

The bulk of league matches are played Monday through Friday 9 30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. For those who can not play on a regular basis, substitute lists are also being established.

Men's and Couple's Leagues are also being organized by the Recreation Department. The men's league, for adults 17 or older, will play Tuesday and Wednesday nights, the couple's league on Sunday and Monday nights.

Call the recreation department, 921 9480, to register for men's play, and Mrs. Ingrid Harvey, 924 6147, for couples.

All interested in any of the leagues must register before Friday, October 19. All participants must be Princeton residents or platform tennis permit holders.

The department is also establishing a ladies competitiv leagn. A woman's level of play does not have to be good, although beginners are asked to get experience in the regular ladies league before attempting to play competitively. The league is designed to bring out advanced strategy and a desire to play successfully against other clubs in the area.

Inter-competition between balanced teams will be highlighted by instructional clinics and matches against other clubs.

Those interested should call the recreation office before November 1 and leave your name and address. The league will most likely meet two afternoons a week.

WINNERS LISTED

At Nassau Racquet Club, Joyce Clark and Frits Dumpel each captured two first-place trophies as the Nassau Racquet and Tennis Club in Belle Mead concluded its outdoor season.

The 1973 outdoor tournament winners were. Ladies' Singles - 1- Joyce Clark, 2- Erica Dumpel; Ladies' Doubles - 1- Joyce Clark - Mary Lofgren, 2- Carolyn Camper - Nancy VanderVoort, Men's Singles — xd Frits Dumpel, 2 Mark Knowlton; Men's Doubles - 1- Mark Knowlton - At Mc Gimpey, 2 Ben Camper Frits Dumpel; Mixed Doubles 1 Puck and Frits Dumpel, 2 1- Frits Dumpel, 2- Mark

The club's first annual outdoor junior tournament was won by Flip Reuben and Benton Camper with Steven Heugeboren and John Weinstock runners up

DEFENSE EXCELS

In Midget Football. The defense ruled last Sunday in the senior division of the Princeton Midget Football League as Princeton University Store tied Rug and Furniture Mart 0 0, and Nassau Conover Motors beat Princeton Fuel Oil 7 6.

In the first game, the U Store defense held the powerful Rug Mart ground offense in check by becoming especially stingy within the 20 yard line. Two critical offensive penalties also hurt Rug Mart

The U Store scoring combination of the first game — a hand off from quarterback John Rosenthal to back Keith Phox for a pass to Chris McDonald brought it to the three yard line but the Rug Mart defense held. A close call against a fumble recovery by the U Store nullified what had seemed a U Store score late in the game.

The U Store offense was led by the running of John Sapoch and Keith Phox and Phox's passing. Its defense was strong with Cory Easter, Paul Jordan, Tom Seiler and Brian Cleveland.

The Rug Mart offense was led by both the ground game and the pass receptions of Bob Rumer and Ron Ward and the passing of Dave Fitzgerald. Its defense was headed by John Furrey, Bob Campbell, Bob Rumer, Ron Ward and Dave Fitzgerald.

In Sunday's second game, may participate in a clinic with the visiting pros and Princeton tennis teams. Emphasis will be placed on describing and demonstrating proper tennis strokes and match strategy.

The evening program will take place in the stadium on the main floor of Jadwin. A special tennis surface will be laid down on the basketball court. Preceding the matches, Princeton's men's and women's teams will present a pre-program exhibition.

Proceeds from this major fund raising effort will be used to develop and expand existing community programs through the Youth Tennis Foundation of Princeton and to support the University's men's and women's tennis teams through the new group of interested alumni, the Friends of Princeton Tennis.

Ticket applications for this tennis spectacular are now being accepted by mail with public sale starting at Jadwin Ticket Office, Saturday, November 3. Patrons and box seats are also available

For flyers with ticket information and application blanks, see area school and club tennis coaches, sporting goods stores, indoor tennis facilities, or the Jadwin Ticket Office at Princeton University. Further information may also be obtained at the Youth Tennis Foundation headquarters, 71 University Place, Princeton, New Jersey, 924 4343.

MEN'S FIELD HOCKEY?

University Hosts Exhibition. With women invading one male bastion after another in recent years, especially in the world of sport, one doesn't expect to see the opposite occur.

But this Saturday at 11 at Poe Field on the University campus, the North Jersey Field Hockey Club will play an exhibition game with just that effect. Field hockey has been one of the most popular sports in the burgeoning women's sports program at Princeton, but in this game all the players will be men.

Boosters of men's field hockey say the sport is one of the most popular team games in the world, although participation is still small in the United States. This free exhibition match is designed to publicize the existence of men's field hockey, as opposed to the women's variety, and to acquaint spectators with the fine points of the game.

JUMBO MACHINES ADDED

At Coin Wash. Three huge 35-pound coin operated washing machines, the largest made, are now in operation at the Coin Wash, 259 Nassau Street, behind Viking Furniture.

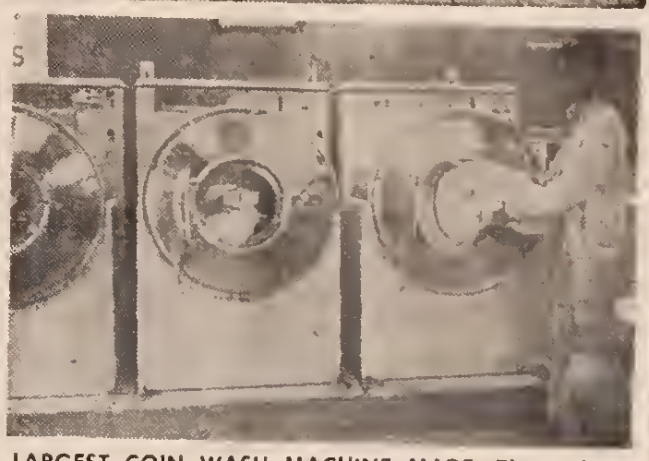
Owner Dave Kass, who also operates the Wash-O-Mat in the same building says, "As far as I know, we are the only one in the area to have them."

The advantages of the new machines, reports Mr. Kass, are size, economy, versatility and most importantly — cleaner clothes. It's a very gentle type mechanical action, Mr. Kass stated. "The cylinder reverses itself every 30 seconds so the cloths never knot up." And they come out cleaner. The complete cycle takes 22 minutes.

They're versatile because you can load just about anything in them — drapes, blankets, bedspreads and of course bundles of clothing.

And they're more economical. "It's our way to help fight inflation," smiles Mr. Kass. "In most cases, it will be cheaper to use one of these 35-pound machines than it would be to use a bunch of smaller machines."

Their size permits the cleaning of most any size rug and other bulky garments. For those who don't need one of these behemoths, the Coin Wash has rows of smaller coin operated machines and dryers.



LARGEST COIN WASH MACHINE MADE: These three, 35-pound coin-operated washing machines just installed at the Coin Wash, 259 Nassau Street, are the largest made, according to owner Dave Kass. Woman at right is loading a 9x12 rug. Story this page.

Nassau Conover led Princeton Fuel 7-0 until less than two minutes in the game when Dwight Bullock caught a pass from Dave Miller, on his seven-yard line, and raced 93 yards for the score. However, Princeton Fuel failed to convert, and the game ended 7-6.

Rod Taylor scored the touchdown and conversion for Nassau Conover while Mark Pittman averaged nearly 10 yards per carry. The Nassau Conover defense was led by Bob Cronin. A pass interception by Bob Flippin, run back 35 yards, was called back for a penalty.

The Fuel Oil ground offense was led by Charles Phox and Mike Budd. Dave Miller, Bob McAvenia and Don Gips played well on defense.

The series continues next Sunday at the High School field.

NO. 6 IS EASY

For PHS Cross Country. The Princeton High School cross country team defeated Lawrence High last week, 16-43, for its sixth straight win without a loss. Leading the 2.9 mile race for the Little Tigers was Pete Nichols with a time of 14.55.

PHS placed in the top four runners, all under the previous course record of 15:35. They are John Woodside (15:00), Royce Flippin (15:04) and Tim Anderson (15:20). Princeton's other top finishers were Rex Hay, Mike Clohossey, Morgan Snyder, Bill Frazier, and Mike Bolster.

Princeton's J.V. also won, 16-40. Peter Schwartz, John Riddell and George Chambers led Princeton over the shorter 2.5 mile course.

Princeton's next home meet is against Montgomery Friday at 3:45. The two races will start at Palmer Stadium.

ICE SKATE EXCHANGE CLUB

Here's How It Works:

- This season, buy a pair of well-known Hyde skates from us — — men's or women's, boys' or girls', figure or hockey. You will receive a membership card to our Exchange Club.
- Next year, return the same pair of skates regardless of condition and receive another pair — same quality — for $3 to $6, depending on the style originally purchased.

The Advantages:

- Proper fit year after year. You don't have to buy a larger size. Correct fit is so important in ice skates.
- Better quality skates year after year for minimum cost.

News Of The CHURCHES

REUNION PLANNED

By Lawrenceville Presbyterian. Members of the Presbyterian Church of Lawrenceville are planning a Homecoming Reunion for Saturday, October 27, as a grand finale to their year-long series of 275th Anniversary celebrations.

Invitations have been sent to all parts of the country urging former Church members to return and join resident members and friends in reunion festivities.

A reception has been scheduled for 6 p.m., Saturday, October 27, which will be followed by a dinner and premiere performance of a musical comedy. This musical revue has been created for the occasion by members of the church choir under the direction of James Lauffer.

Mrs. David N. Penrose, Mrs. Lee A. Wiley, Mrs. Raymond L. Souders, Jr., Mrs. Charles C. Hullfish, Sr., and Mrs. Edward L. Gilman have been coordinating special arrangements for the Homecoming. They request that area Church members make their reservations with the church as soon as possible and they extend an invitation to other residents who may make their reservations by calling the church office.

LUTHERANS JOIN FORCES

In Princeton Chapel Service. As the three largest Lutheran churches in North America engage in factional quarrels, representatives of the three groups in New Jersey have been quietly working to find ways in which they can share cooperative ministries in the state.

A first step in that direction will come Sunday, October 28, in an All Lutheran Reformation Service at the Princeton University Chapel at 7 p.m.

Taking part in the occasion will be members of the New Jersey Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, the New Jersey District of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and the Eastern District of the American Lutheran Church. Host church for the service will be the Eastern District of the ALC.

Preaching at this service will be the Rev. Dr. Paul G. Bretscher, theologian of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and presently pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Valparaiso, Indiana.

Also participating in the service will be the Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Ehlers, president of the New Jersey Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, and the Rev. Walter L. Zeile, president of the New Jersey District of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod.

Unity Required. "We Lutherans have a tremendous task ahead in witnessing to Christ in New Jersey," said Pastor Zeile. "It will require unity, not separation. We all want to show that, even though we might not always agree, we can still stand together in our proclamation of Christ."

Plans are underway to form a 200 voice choir for the service.

The three Lutheran churches in New Jersey represent more than 141,000 baptized members.

DINNER - DANCE PLANNED

At St. Paul's. A buffet dinner dance October 27 will complete the parish raffle-fund drive of St. Paul's Church.

The dance will be held in the newly renovated Church Hall from 8 to midnight. Music is by Adam Nowicki and his orchestra. Tickets at $10 per couple are available from Donald Haws, 799-0342, or Jerry Thornton, 799-0289.

A raffle drawing, with top prize a Dodge Dart, will be held at the dance. Proceeds will go to repair the church organ, pay for renovations of the Church Hall, and for repair work of St. James Mission Church. Raffle tickets can be obtained through the rectory or from Guy Smith, 359-6498.

SENIORS' CENTER OPENS

At Methodist Church. A drop-in center for senior citizens has been opened in the youth room of the parish hall of the Princeton United Methodist Church, Nassau and Vandeventer streets.

Staffed by local residents and members of the congregation, the center is open Monday, Wednesday and Fridays from 1:30 to 3.

The center offers light refreshments, a place to rest, conversation and a bulletin board containing information of interest to senior citizens. The center may be reached from the Vandeventer Street entrance to the church.

BULLETIN NOTES

The sermon at the Unitarian Church this Sunday at 10 a.m. will be delivered by Peter B. Putnam, a member of the congregation. The title: "Who Makes History?"

The Morning Star Church of God in Christ will sponsor a southern fried chicken and barbecue spare ribs dinner this Saturday from noon to 6 p.m. at the church, 43½ Birch Avenue. The menu also features candied yams, potato salad, and collards or string beans. Donation is $2.50. For orders call 924-5478.

Trinity Episcopal Church on Crescent Avenue in Rocky Hill announces the following schedule of worship: Morning Prayer at 10:30 the second, fourth and fifth Sundays of the month; Holy Communion at 10:30 the first and third Sundays. Sunday School is at 10:30 and nursery care is also available.

World Community Day of the Church Women United will be marked Friday, November 2, at 8 p.m. in Pearce Hall of Trinity Church. The theme: "Where in the World is My Neighbor?"

SPECTACULAR VIEW—EXCITING HOUSE

Japanese in inspiration, this is a home designed to turn its back to the world and front its main living areas on a wonderful lakeside setting. Both the inviting entry-sitting room and the living room—dramatic with its high nave ceiling and ship prow windows projecting in the view—share access to a handsome redwood deck running almost the length of the house, and steps down to the lower terraces.

Four bedrooms (including a master suite with dressing room), three baths, immense lower level family room with fireplace, cozy hideaway study with lake view, large screened terrace and exciting lower level entrance—even a bomb shelter! The fine appointments include antique fireplaces in both living and sitting rooms, heirloom chandeliers and sconces in the dining room, and custom carpeting cut to the living room shape.

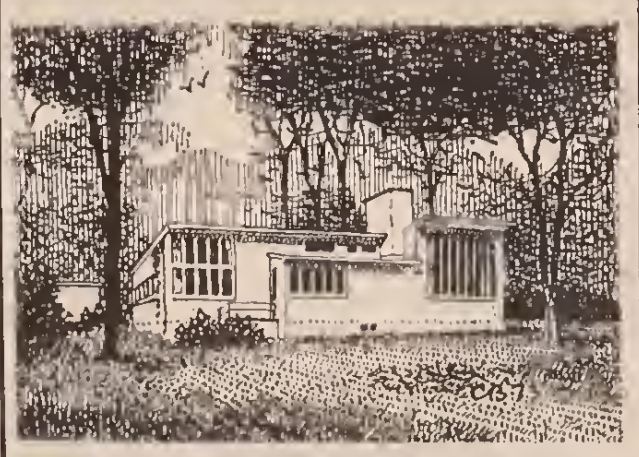
This is a house to see, admire and love—and a listing we're pleased and proud to present—at $157,500

IF WE PUT IN ALL THE TREES, YOU WOULDN'T SEE THE HOUSE!!

Pretty inside and out, and eminently liveable, that's our new listing in attractive Cranbury. Master bedroom suite with combination guest room-dressing room and bath, 2 corner bedrooms and hall bath—everything from the formal living room with brick fireplace to the excellent eat-in kitchen with adjoining family room is in apple pie shape.

The lot is something special, with spectacular trees and established shrubbery giving almost complete privacy from the street. The pool area is fenced—and carpeted! And there is a small dog run.

All you can wish in a house—and more. Offered at $85,000



WEST SIDE HIDEAWAY

Tucked away among the trees at the end of a short cul de sac, this contemporary gem offers privacy, seclusion and a convenient in-town location. Two bedrooms, two baths, study, kitchen—and a living room whose beamed ceiling soars to the magnificent high windows overlooking the grounds. Bookcases, fireplace, built-in window seat—this is a room to come home to!

Architect designed, it is the perfect house for one or two—or even three. Offered at $88,500

If you are renewing an older house, remember this rule of thumb: "Ceiling before walls." This is always the right order in renewal of any sort. Almost any wall material can be applied over old ceilings. Also, there is a large assortment of ceiling materials especially designed to reduce the noise in a room by absorbing sound instead of reflecting it. These acoustical panels improve the quality of tone from radio, television, etc., and may make conversation easier.

A rule of thumb is to deal with a reputable Realtor. Come to WALTER B. HOWE INC., 1 Palmer Sq. (924-0095), Pennington (737-3301) and W. Windsor (799-1100). Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. 1-5. We have exciting listings catering to your real estate dreams.

HELPFUL HINT:
Never put light wallpaper over dark because dark paper sometimes bleeds through and causes streaks.

IN NEARBY KINGSTON ON LARGE MORE THAN AN ACRE LOT . . . BRAND NEW BUILDER'S LUXURIOUS RANCH . . . PRICED AT $57,500 READY FOR YOUR CHOICE OF COLORS AND APPLIANCES. CITY WATER AND SEWER. THE MARVELOUS SOUTH BRUNSWICK TOWNSHIP SCHOOL SYSTEM.

TRULY CONTEMPORARY, BUT WITH A TOUCH OF EUROPEAN ELEGANCE . . . at the edge of one of Princeton's most outstanding estates a superb all-brick provincial house that might be sitting serenely in the Bois de Boulogne! Virtually maintenance free, on an acre and a half of rich lawn and lush gardens. Built for family comfort and elegant entertaining right down to the spectacular wine cellar. Seclusion possible inside and out. $177,000

Williamsburg colonial with every modern feature . . . total electric heating and central air conditioning, living room with fireplace, dining room with chair rail, large country kitchen opening to screened porch and inviting brick patio, family room panelled to Mediterranean cedar with beamed ceiling, wet bar, and full brick fireplace, den or fifth bedroom, powder room and utility room. Quaint second story features a large master bedroom suite in sunshine yellow with dressing area and full bath, three other bedrooms and bath. Full panelled lower level with tiled floor and oodles of storage area. $120,000

A BEAUTIFUL BUCKS COUNTY FARM HOUSE RIGHT IN THE VILLAGE OF LAWRENCEVILLE! Here is a truly superb reproduction of a Pennsylvania stone and clapboard colonial on a quiet cul-de-sac just a short walk to the Village Bakery. Only one year young and in fantastic condition, with five bedrooms and two and a half baths. Both the gracious living room and the comfortable family room have fireplaces. Inviting dining room and a marvellous eat-in kitchen, too. Numerous extras include full basement, air conditioning, inter-com, triple track storms & screens, carpeting, etc., etc. $129,000

PRINCETON BORO . . . an unbelievable contemporary built before its time! Over 1,000 square feet of ultra-modern living space complete with an indoor pool! Lovely in-town lot with tall trees and lots of seclusion . . . all within walking distance of the Nassau Club. Solid construction and easy maintenance. Living room with fireplace and dining area, full modern kitchen, family room with wet bar, five bedrooms and 4 full baths . . . to name just a few features. Please call for details.
